ENGLAND VOTES ANOTHER
LOAN OF $1,250,000,000TOTAL OF $4,310,000,000 SET ASIDE
BY ENGLAND FOR GREEDY DOGS OF WAR

Announcement Made That During Next Three Months Cost to Britons Alone Will Be $15,000,000 Daily—13,547 Officers and Men of English Navy Killed Or Missing—Austrian Losses Serious Along Isonzo River—Italians Continue to Advance at Many Points—25,000 Austrians Leave Trent for Attack.

By Associated Press.
London, June 15.—The House of Commons this afternoon voted another credit of 250,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,250,000,000) making, with previous sums, a total of 862,000,000 pounds sterling ($4,310,000,000) already allowed for war purposes.

13,547 officers and men of the British navy, including marines and members of the naval division, have been killed or wounded or reported missing from the beginning of the war up to May 31, according to announcement made in London today. Of this total 8,245 were killed.

London, June 15.—Premier Asquith, on moving a vote of credit for 250,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,250,000,000) informed the members of the House of Commons today that the expenditure in the next three months would not be less than $15,000,000 daily.

In introducing the measure Premier Asquith remarked that from April 1 to June 12 the expenditure had been at the rate of $13,300,000 daily.

In a general survey of the situation the premier referred to the reconstruction of the government, saying it was such a broadening of the basis of government as would remove even the semblance of one-sided or party character.

Innsbruck, Austria, June 15.—Twenty-five thousand Austro-Hungarian troops left Trent yesterday and are now advancing against the Italians on the Riva-Rovereto front. In the vicinity of Gorz and Gradisca heavy fighting occurred recently and Austrian casualties are reported to be 1,500 while the Italians, killed and wounded, totalled nearly as many.

A new ammunition depot at Tolmino has been destroyed by the Italians. The Austro-Hungarian troops are employing dynamite in the Al-

INNOCENT SUFFERERS OF MEXICO'S CIVIL STRIFE.

In the words of President Wilson, "Mexico is apparently no nearer a solution of her tragical troubles than she was when the revolution was first kindled. And she has been swept by civil war as if by fire. Her crops are destroyed, her fields lie unseeded, her work cattle are confiscated for the use of the armed factions; her people flee to the mountains to escape being drawn into unavailing bloodshed and no man seems to see or lead the way to peace and settled order. There is no proper protection, either, for her own citizens or for the citizens of other nations resident and at work within her territory. Mexico is starving and without a government. Patriotic Mexicans are sick at heart and cry out for peace. Their people cry out for food, and will present hate as much as they fear every man in their country or out of it who stands between them and their daily bread."

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson told callers today that the plans of the United States for dealing with the Mexican situation were inchoate, as yet, but that the situation seemed to be taking shape.

He had before him General Carranza's proclamation and General Villa's memorandum in answer to his recent statement to the factions.

Carranza's reply to overtures by General Villa for restoration of peace in Mexico was awaited with interest in official circles here.

PEOPLE ARE DECEIVED
ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

Claims Former Secretary of Navy, Who Says United States Navy Is in Woeful Condition and That Next Session of Congress Should Investigate and Take Steps to Make Navy a Credit to the Greatest Nation on Earth.

By Associated Press.
New York, June 15.—George von L. Meyer, who was Secretary of the Navy in President Taft's Cabinet, addressing the Peace and Preparation Conference of the National Security League at luncheon today, asserted that the American Navy is deteriorating, outlined the respects in which he believed such to be the case and urged that investigation of the national defense and a comprehensive plan for the future should be made obligatory upon the next Congress.

Lack of battle-cruisers, airships, armed aeroplanes and men, lack of a naval reserve of experienced men, lack of a comprehensive policy of national defense, lack of general public knowledge of the navy's condition, reduction of complements of some ships to man other and newer ships and general unpreparedness on the part of many battleships and other fighting units were enumerated as instances of naval inferiority. Mr. Meyer said, in part:

Of the thirty-three battleships we have only twenty-one that are fitted for service without long delay. Furthermore, we have about seventy miscellaneous fighting ships not prepared for service in case of emergency.

"We lack battle cruisers, airships and armed aeroplanes.

"Our submarines are in a crippled condition.

"The complement of all torpedo destroyers has been reduced from fifteen to twenty-five per cent to get men to commission new boats. This reduction in personnel is a serious handicap, reduces the efficiency of the destroyers, affects contentment, and prevents the boat being kept in good condition.

"The Atlantic Fleet alone needs 5,000 more men.

"The Reserve Fleet at Philadelphia was largely depleted in order to get a crew for the Alabama when she was ordered to Hampton Roads to enforce neutrality.

"The review in New York this year was a poor imitation of previous reviews, in that the reserve fleet was absent. It was a mere parade, not a mobilization. It did not indicate the true condition of the navy because the people did not know the whole truth.

CAPT. TURNER CLAIMS
LUSITANIA UNARMED

Examiners Taking Evidence on Sinking of Lusitania Claim Two Torpedoes and Possibly Three Were Fired Without Warning, and That Contentions of The United States Are to be Confirmed.

By Associated Press.

London, June 15.—The inquiry into the loss of the Lusitania was opened in London today. Nothing is to be made public concerning the orders sent to the ship by the British Admiralty, but testimony showing the actions of those in charge of the steamer after the torpedoes were fired will be permitted.

Attorney General Sir Edward Carson, in his opening statement, said the Lusitania was steaming at only 18 knots an hour at the time of the attack, using only two of her boilers. This was done to save coal and labor on account of light traffic.

"The Lusitania was not armed and she was never fitted out as a transport" was one of Sir Edward's statements.

Captain Turner of the Lusitania said the ship was not armed, either for offense or defense, and carried no masked guns. He confirmed Sir Edward's statement as to the speed of the Lusitania and the number of her boilers in operation.

The captain estimated that 10 seconds after the Lusitania was struck it was impossible to stand on deck. He said the three difficulties in rescuing passengers were the list of the ship; her headway, which carried her two or three miles after being struck and the shortness of time.

The captain testified he had given orders to look out for submarines and to proceed at full speed if any were sighted. He said the boats had been swung out the morning of the day preceding the torpedoing.

When asked whether the passengers were giving help, as far as they were able he replied: "Interfering, I should say." He added, however, that the passengers showed a desire to assist in every way possible.

Sir Edward Carson said he was able to give a complete denial of the contention of the German government that the Lusitania was an armed vessel carrying guns.

"In their note to Germany," Sir Edward Carson said, "The United States already have officially denied this, and the evidence I have proposed to call will confirm and fully prove the remarks of the American government.

"Without a warning a German submarine fired two torpedoes at the Lusitania and it is believed a third projectile was fired. To sink passengers in this manner was a deliberate attempt at murder."

WILSON REFUSES TO MAKE
KNOWN CHANGES IN NOTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 15.—Reports that the United States had declined to become a party to efforts in various neutral countries to make peace in Europe were said by President Wilson today to be untrue. He declared the Washington government had done everything that could be legitimately done to encourage any movement that might lead to peace or an accommodation of interests in Europe.

The president said Colonel House, who recently investigated the peace prospects in Europe, had not been sent for by him, but he expected to see the colonel here soon.

President Wilson was asked by the Washington correspondents today just what the changes were to which former Secretary Bryan referred as having been made in the recent American note to Germany after his resignation as secretary of state had been tendered and accepted. Mr. Wilson felt it was best for him not to discuss the resignation or other questions connected with it. The president had no comment to offer on the situation with Germany.

ZIMMERMAN
ARTICLE IS REPUBLISHED

By Associated Press.

Berlin, June 15.—The Vorwaerts published the article of Eugene Zimmerman, general director of the Lokal Anzeiger, in favor of efforts toward a German-American understanding, and adds: "This article, which we cannot recommend heartily enough, expresses earnestly and clearly what has long lain on the lips of thousands of reasoning Germans."

The Vossische Zeitung comments as follows on the arrest in Cincinnati of Heinrich Hardenberg, said to be a member of the German aviation corps in connection with the investigation of the Lusitania disaster by the Federal Grand Jury in New York:

"It is decidedly a remarkable manner of conducting an investigation that persons who make statements varying from those of American port officials should be intimidated by arrest on suspicion of perjury."

MEYER GERHARD

Christiansand, Norway, June 15.—The Scandinavian-American steamer United States arrived here yesterday from New York. Among her passengers is Meyer Gerhard, the attaché of the German Colonial Office, who is on his way to Berlin at the instance of the German ambassador at Washington, to present the American political situation to the German government.

Gilead, pleaded guilty to charges of embezzling $23,000 of the bank's funds in Federal District Court here today and was sentenced to serve 6 years and 8 months in the federal penitentiary at Moundsville, W. Va., by Judge John E. Sater.

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO END CAR STRIKE

Chicago, June 15.—Operation of ten trains of five cars each on a fifteen minute schedule, on the South Side elevated system, without interference, prompted officials of the elevated roads to make plans to extend the service to the Metropolitan elevated system on the West and Northwest sides. Nonunion men have been engaged to man a limited number of surface cars, and an attempt to operate will be made within forty-eight hours. Early action on the surface lines was also forecasted in a communication sent to Mayor Thompson by President Bushy requesting police protection and stating that service would be resumed.

Entrance of the state board of arbitration into the strike of the 14,000 employees of the surface and elevated lines and efforts to bring about arbitration through the offices of the mayor and an aldermanic committee marked the progress of the strike. The trouble came to the official attention of the city council in the form of a series of resolutions, one of which provided for a board of five aldermen to act as mediators. The peace committee, according to the provisions of the resolution, will be named by the mayor.

The efforts of the state board of arbitration to bring about a return to normal transportation conditions took the form of two communications. One was addressed to the public and the other to the officials of the traction companies and officials of the unions of the striking employees.

In both communications attention was called to the statute that the state board may intervene at the request of interested parties, or whenever it seems likely that the public will suffer inconvenience or deprivation of communication or transportation. It is further stated that the time has now arrived for intervention by

CASH REGISTER PEOPLE SCORE

Washington, June 15.—The supreme court declined to review the reversal by the sixth United States circuit court of appeals of the conviction of officials of the National Cash Register company of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

By the decision the government lost the most important criminal prosecution that has yet come to trial under the Sherman law, and what was regarded by former Attorney General Wickesham and Attorney General Gregory as probably the most far-reaching suit of its kind in the government's long list of prosecutions of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The circuit court reversed the convictions of President John H. Patterson and other officers of the National Cash Register company, which carried jail sentences, although it did not deny the government the right to proceed in some other way. The convicted officials contend the supreme court had no jurisdiction to review the action of the court which had upset the lower verdicts.

The government's case contained many sensational allegations of unfair competition and monopoly, and in its appeal to the supreme court for a review referred to the defendants as "steeped in deliberate guilt."

Department of justice officials made no secret that they considered the efficacy of the criminal section of the Sherman law as at stake in the case, which was lost to the government. They stated after the court's announcement that nothing remained but for the government to proceed in the lower court. It may ask to have the cases dismissed or press for a second trial in the district court.

The supreme court decided the long standing Virginia-West Virginia debt case, holding West Virginia should pay $12,393,939 as its share of the Virginia debt at the time of the partition of the states.

With one exception, trains were operated without violence. The exception was an injury sustained by Sergeant Otto Earlson, who was the target for a wooden block hurled by a strike sympathizer, who stood on a fire escape as the train was crossing Fourteenth street. The policeman was severely cut by falling glass.

Company officials expressed them selves as pleased with the efforts to break the strike, and entered a denial that the trains had been operated with imported labor. In a statement President Britton Budd said: "There is one point that I wish to emphasize, and that is that we ran our South Side trains with old and faithful employees. We are not using new hands in operating these trains, but with men who are true to their employers."

Official figures show that 4,500 cars are idle and 14,500 men out. More than 1,200 miles of trackage is tied up and 19 power houses closed. The companies are deprived of $200,000 daily income. More than three million passengers are carried daily by the lines involved.

Newark, O., June 15.—George Edwards, twenty-one, president of the Ohio State junior agricultural class, is in a serious condition at the home of his parents near here as a result of being stung when he attempted to drive a swarm of bees on his father's farm. He was stung probably 1,000 times.

WESLEYAN TO RAISE MILLION

Delaware, O., June 15.—Plans for the diamond jubilee at commencement in 1919, marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of the university and a financial campaign for $1,000,000, were outlined by President Herbert Welch of Ohio Wesleyan university in his annual message to the board of trustees. The first unit of the $1,000,000 goal is to be a fund of $600,000 in cash for buildings and endowment. The remaining $400,000 of the $1,000,000 it is planned to secure by bequest, or annuity, or in cash gifts for other purposes than endowment or buildings, or in additional cash for these same purposes. The plan of the committee is that pledges for the $600,000 should be secured by May 1, 1917, and the campaign will actively begin this fall.

UNBOUNDED OPTIMISM

New York, June 15.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy of the United States diplomatic service has just returned from Europe, where he has been in the role ostensibly of secretary of the American embassy in Vienna, but in reality, it is said, drawing up a report on conditions in France, Germany, Austro-Hungary and England. "In all the European capitals I found unbounded optimism," he said. "The Parisians are sure of winning; so are the people of Berlin; so are those of London. Being a neutral, I can only say I hope they'll all win. Because of the great battles that have been fought there is a general shortage of ammunition in all countries. I found that there is a good supply of food in Germany." O'Shaughnessy's wife is in Rome. He left for Washington.

MR. ACKLEY BREAKS WITH BILLY SUNDAY

Philadelphia, June 15.—Bentley D. Ackley, who was Billy Sunday's right-hand man, secretary and pianist during the revival campaign here, has resigned from the Sunday forces and announced here he will expose a lot of "unpleasant stuff" concerning the evangelist's "system," which he helped to direct. It is believed Ackley will base his charges on the financial side of the revival system as it was conducted here.

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES GOING DOWN

New York, June 15.—Exchange rates on London fell to a new low record here when demand sterling declined to 4.77½, which establishes the minimum quotation for something like a generation. The previous low record was on May 21 last, when these remittances were quoted at 4.78.

POINTS OUT SIMILARITIES

New York, June 15.—Allan L. Benson, a distinguished Socialist writer, admitted at his home in Yonkers that his attention has been directed to the marked similarity of recent statements made by him as to the right of the people to vote whether or not war should be declared against any nation, as to the foolishness of Americans insisting on "paper rights" while risking lives and property in the German submarine zone, and as to the unjustifiable recklessness of Americans traveling on ships that carry war munitions, and statements on the subject made by William J. Bryan since Mr. Bryan resigned as secretary of state.

In every case Mr. Benson's views on these matters antedated Mr. Bryan's comments. This proved sufficiently, Mr. Benson's friends assured him, that even if Mr. Bryan had not borrowed certain ideas from Benson, Mr. Bryan could not lay claim to originality.

"The similarities that certainly exist were pointed out to me," said the Socialist author, "but I have no doubt they were accidental. If not, no harm is done. I would be glad if Mr. Bryan saw fit to use my beliefs. I believe that Mr. Bryan has taken a fine stand. When he is dead and mourners bend over his body they will say of him that his present stand was the greatest accomplishment of his life."

THE PRESIDENT EXPECTS PEACEFUL OUTCOME

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson feels encouraged by reports that the pending negotiations between Germany and the United States most likely will have a peaceful outcome.

This feeling is based on both official and unofficial reports from Berlin telling of the favorable reception there of the American note, and on the hope, too, that the dispatches carried by Dr. Anton Meyer Gerhard for Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will impress German officials with the American point of view.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who saw the president and who has been talking with other officials about the situation, spoke of finding a general feeling of optimism.

It was learned that the president does not plan to send another note to Great Britain protesting against the interference with commerce between the United States and neutral countries of Europe until the discussion with Germany has shaped itself more clearly. This does not necessarily mean, it was said, that the president will wait until a reply is received from Germany, though the British note scarcely will go forward until some definite idea has been gained of the character of the next communication from Berlin.

Colonel E. M. House is expected to give the president much valuable information, not only regarding the feeling in Germany, but about the possibility of obtaining a modification by Great Britain and France of their blockade operations as they affect neutral commerce.

The Wet Weather

The heavy showers of rain during the past few days have compelled a realization that the weather conditions in this section are becoming serious.

The storm of Sunday created havoc with hundreds of acres of growing wheat in northeastern Fayette and the southwestern section of Madison county. Farther away from here the damage to growing crops and buildings was greater. The heavy wind and rain pounded the wheat down almost flat on the ground and only the most optimistic among the farmers have faith that it will be able to raise up again.

Then too, the wheat harvest and the hay harvest are near at hand and both crops need hot, dry weather to bring them to proper maturity. The corn, while growing splendidly, is being overrun with weeds and grass and is badly in need of cultivation.

The prospect for bumper crops in all lines was never brighter than it is this year, but many people, especially the more timid folks, are beginning to get a little uneasy about the long spell of wet weather.

So far no real damage has been done, save that by the strong wind Sunday afternoon.

It means, perhaps, more to the farmers of this section this year than ever before, to be able to get dollars at harvest times on the prospects of the spring season.

Peace Prospects in Mexico

One bright ray which shines through the dark clouds of war is the prospect of a cessation of the strife and turmoil in Mexico.

The armies of Carranza have been successful on the fields of battle and the cause of Carranza has been gaining in popularity with the masses of the Mexican people.

Villa has met with such tremendous reverses in battle that his troops are discouraged and he is willing to meet with his former chieftain and the leaders of the several other rebel factions in Mexico, in an endeavor to reach a conclusion as to the future of Mexico and the relation which each one of the numerous patriots and leaders in Mexico shall assume toward the government.

Another favorable indication for the restoration of peace and order in Mexico, and the establishing of a permanent government, is the fact that Carranza, when victory seems within his grasp, is anxious to secure the recognition and the friendly assistance of the United States.

In the realization that no one man is powerful enough to assume the role of dictator in Mexico and to maintain his authority by the sword and that the time has come in Mexico when the older order must give way to the new, when men can no longer, under a claim of benefit to the masses appropriate to themselves the autocratic powers of those who have gone before, is the hope of a return to reason and order in Mexico.

The Proposed "Road Levy."

The county commissioners of this county have passed a resolution providing for increasing the tax levy each year in the sum of two mills. It is the announced purpose of the commissioners to spend the sum which this two mill levy on all the taxable property of the county will produce, in building good roads.

The fact that Fayette county needs better roads is not susceptible of denial and the assertion that a great many more than half of the people of the county want better roads, and are willing, even anxious, to pay for them is absolutely correct.

The present method of road building by the state is not working satisfactorily in Fayette county. The "aid" seems to be too slow coming to be of appreciable benefit. This county has a tremendous amount of road mileage and it is a small county too.

Whether the plan now suggested for the people to place a burden on themselves to the extent of two mills on their taxable property is wise or not depends entirely upon the plan of expenditure.

Because we are not "getting anywhere" now in road building is no reason why the people should raise eighty thousand dollars a year in addition to other taxes, unless they have some guarantee that they will get real value for it.

If the plan is a good one—will produce the desired result—and the funds are safeguarded in a way that will insure, in spite of changes in officialdom, its judicious expenditure the people will vote for it. Otherwise the proposal should be, and will be, defeated.

Poetry For Today

THE SEA.

Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter

The thoughts that arise in me.

O, well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at
play!

O, well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished
hand,

And the sound of a voice that is still.

Break, break, break,
At the foot thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead

Will never come back to me.

ROMANCE IN GEOGRAPHY.

Names That Speak of Achievement and of Desperate Need.

Geography is a fascinating study. The history of the human race is written in large characters on the earth's surface for the seeing eye.

Most people know that Pike's peak commemorates the explorations of a daring young officer early in the last century. But how many know that in the name of the Bill Williams, river lingers the only memorial to a famous trapper and Indian fighter of Kit Carson's time, to whom the Rocky mountain country was an open book before even Fremont "blazed the trail" to the Pacific.

It is around Hudson straits that names cry most loudly of achievement and of desperate need. Fancy what the Bay of God's Mercy meant to the man who first gave it that name! Or the heart breaking effort indicated by Terror point. Contrast Repulse bay and Mistake bay with the peace implied in Home bay and Cape Comfort.

It is difficult to estimate the exact depth and breadth of the irony that found vent in Navy Board inlet, while Mary Jones bay fairly breathes a longing for the commonplace comforts and safety of home. Resolution island and Hope's Advance bay speak sturdily of the undiminished courage of whalers or explorers in those barren waters.—Outing.

Luke McLuke Says

When you see a man kicking a stray dog you can bet that he is the kind of fellow whose wife and children hate to see him come home at night.

A woman can paint her face and be all right. But a man seldom gives her the benefit of the doubt when he sees the paint.

Appearances may be deceitful. But a man looking for a wife would rather take a chance on a pretty girl than on a homely one.

A woman can be narrow minded and still have a hard time squeezing into a morris chair when she wants to sit down.

Our idea of a real modest girl would be one who is ashamed to dress in front of a looking glass.

The trouble with having a genius in the family is that the rest of the family have to support him.

A man likes to yell that his wife can't fix meals like mother used to cook. But you couldn't get him to marry an old lady with mother's experience in the cooking line.

One half the world owes money that it can't pay, and the other half has money out that it can't collect.

A husband is the sort of bluffer who gives his wife $5 to spend on herself and tells her what a generous lad he is. Then he makes her pay for his laundry when the laundryman comes and pay for his beer when the beer man comes and pay for the suit he sent up to get cleaned and pressed.

And along about Friday he will borrow a dollar from her. And on Saturday he will get mad because she wants some money and will ask her what she did with the $5 he gave her for herself last Saturday.

Any married man is entitled to sympathy unless he has married the second time.

A man can have a reputation downtown of being the best natural fellow in the world, but somehow or other his wife never guesses it.

The man who takes booze as a medicine seems to manage to dig up a fresh cold every day in the year.

Where Is Your Grain?

Suppose by hard work you had got together a bushel of very fine, very rare, very costly grain. You wouldn't put it in an old stove—you wouldn't hide it in some out-of-the-way place. Rats, mice or birds might destroy it. Insects make it worthless—fire destroy it—servants steal it. You would keep that costly grain in a safe place so that you could plant it and get a bounteous harvest. Why not use the same care with your hard-earned dollars. Keep them at the Fayette County Bank. TWO TRAIN RIDERS ARE KILLED IN WRECK ON D. T. & I.

Two men from Jackson were killed and all traffic tied up for nine hours, Monday night, when eight freight cars and the caboose of northbound D. T. & I. train No. 54 left the rails at South Charleston about six o'clock. The wreck was caused by a broken journal on a car laden with coal.

The mishap occurred just north of the depot in South Charleston, and near the mill and while the train was running at a fair rate of speed. When the journal snapped it caused the trucks of the car to leave the rails instantly and moment later the track was torn up, three cars were overturned and the other five cars and caboose were derailed but not seriously damaged.

The two men killed, both of whom are said to have resided in Jackson, were stealing a ride and were caught between the cars and crushed so that death was almost instantaneous. One report states that the men's names were Johnson and Bingham. They were poorly garbed and bore no marks of identification.

Soon after the wreck the section crew was on the scene and as soon as possible the wrecker was summoned but it was 3:30 Tuesday morning before the track was cleared and repairs made sufficient to allow traffic. The work of clearing up the wreck was made doubly difficult by one of the wrecked cars being loaded with pig iron.

The south bound passenger train, due here at seven o'clock p.m., was delayed on a siding near the scene of the wreck and did not reach this city until 4:00 a.m. Tuesday morning. The passengers naturally suffered considerable inconvenience.

Tuesday afternoon Undertaker Elmer Ridgeway, of Jackson, O., was in the city, on his way to South Charleston to take charge of the remains of the dead men, and stated that one was Howard Bingham and the other Walter F. Thompson, both of Jackson. Thompson comes from a good family in Jackson and both men were stealing a ride to Springfield.

The testimony offered consisted chiefly of evidence tending to prove that the County Board had no authority to make the change which caused the suit.

Considerable interest centers on the outcome of the suit, not only among boards of education but among all patrons of the rural schools.

short lives. Our sympathies are with her sincerely.

"Paul Blessing and his mother came to Chillicothe in 1912, during the month of August, when the branch factory of the M. B. Hamilton Glove factory was established here. For some time they made their home on South Elm street, but later purchased a beautiful home on South Vine street.

"Paul became a member of the Elks lodge of this city in 1913 and despite his short membership has held several important offices in that order. Just a short time ago he was chosen Esteemed Knight, one of the most important offices of the lodge.

"During the past few months he has been confined to his home quite a little of the time because of illness. During the winter he underwent operations at St. Mary's Hospital for a very serious illness and since that time his health has not been the best.

"He was 23 years of age and is survived by his mother of this city, a brother, Frank, of Washington C. H., Ohio, and two sisters who also live in Washington C. H. He was born in Ohio.

HEAVY RAINS INTERFERE WITH PAVING OPERATIONS

The heavy rains of the past few days have seriously interfered with the paving operations on North street and Washington avenue.

The greatest trouble is being experienced on the Washington avenue where the plowing of the road bed has been in progress. The water there stands a foot deep and more in places. A system of ditching has been taken away. A mother, who has been inaugurated to take care of "The loss of Paul Blessing saddens many hearts in Chillicothe. Honest, manly and sincere as he was with all whom he associated, he had won the esteem, yes the love, of practically all of his associates.

In Social Circles

Flag Day was observed by the Daughters of the American Revolution at an exceptionally beautiful party at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Harper Monday afternoon. The handsome home, suggestive of the Colonial in its spaciousness, lent itself admirably to patriotic decorations and the folds of "Old Glory" waved over the entrance and greeted the guests as they approached. The large sloping lawn was radiant with summer bloom and guests found much incentive to linger on the big verandah enjoying the outdoor beauty.

A charming little program was introduced with the singing of "America" in which the entire Chapter joined. Miss Stella West played brilliant piano solo and Miss Ada Woodward sang a pretty ballad. Miss Dorothy Fullerton accompanist.

Miss Forest Allen, of Milledgeville, reader who is always eagerly welcomed in Washington, delighted the Chapter with several readings; one especially imbued with the spirit of the day and one a musical reading, with piano accompaniment played by Miss Annette Stafford.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung with enthusiasm by the Chapter.

A delicious summer collation was served, with the red, white and blue suggested in its color scheme.

Greenfield society has witnessed no lovelier wedding than that of Miss Clara Barr, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, and Mr. Kenneth Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kyle, formerly of this city, now of Lancaster, at the home of the bride, Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

The bride is a very attractive young girl who has had liberal advantages in education and supplemented them last year with a summer's travel in Europe. She is as much a favorite in Washington's younger circles as she is in her home town.

The bridegroom retains a host of friends in this city, and was also a popular fellow at the O. W. U., where the young couple were first sweethearts.

The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Swinehart in a bower of pink roses in the living room, and pink roses draped windows, mantles and the wide stairway, and filled a basket, which surmounted the newel post. The adjoining parlor was redolent with orange blossoms. White linen covered the floors.

Price's orchestra played the wedding music and as the hour appointed approached Mrs. Ernest Barr and Miss Mary Bowman sang.

The bride was very sweet and girlish in her bridal gown of white Duchess satin, entraine, and long ropes of pearls falling each side over the bodice and down the skirt. Her veil, of Venetian lace, arranged cap effect, was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by Miss Hilda Kyle, of Lancaster, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor and two maids, Miss Mary Dunton, of Findlay, room mate of the bride at the O. W. U., and Miss Thelma Buchanan, of Helena, Ark., her room mate at Ward-Belmont college.

The maid of honor wore a very elaborate gown of white silk, flowered with pink roses, and over-drapery of rose chiffon, and carried a lovely colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

Miss Dunton wore cream pussy willow taffeta, with ruffled skirt and bodice trimmed with pink rose buds, and carried a basket of roses.

Miss Buchanan's gown was of blue crepe de chine, with accordian plaited skirt and pink rose bud garniture on the bodice. She carried business visitor here today.

SUNDAY SCHOOL COUNCIL CONSIDERS MISSIONS

MARY REESE FILES ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Almost half a hundred of the leaders in Presbyterian Sunday school work and members of the church session assembled in the church basement Monday evening for the regular monthly meeting of the Sunday School Council.

It was an occasion of unusual interest in having Rev. Robert E. Pugh, Supt. of Home Missionary work in Ohio, as the honor guest.

The committee of ladies for the month served an appetizing supper at six o'clock, and at the close of its enjoyable sociability, the practical part of the council's efforts was brought up for consideration.

The feature of the evening was the address by Rev. Pugh, who is most desirous to make a clear cut program for Home Mission work throughout the state of Ohio. The speaker presented the importance of mission work, which underlies the whole life of the church and is imperative to bring the gospel to many who do not know the Christ.

Right here in Ohio there are 5000 churches that need building up. It has been astounding to find in many Ohio localities positive and definite in their views of Atheism and cards given out by the thousands avowing "there is no God."

Rev. Pugh cited the public schools as strong allies in helping churches and gave personal experiences showing the fine opportunities schools furnish for work. Some 50,000 Italians returning from the United States have also done specific mission work in their home land.

Churches are being urged to come in full touch with the nine boards of the church and interest themselves in these big fields.

Rev. Pugh was most desirous of having a stereoptican and views which can be used in illustrating lectures to show the need of mission work in Ohio, and the Sunday school decided to give $100 to the Home Mission Board to provide this instrument and views.

How Letters Strike Our Eyes.
Roman letters of various sizes are commonly called into request by optists in testing vision. Recent experiments show great differences in the ease with which the various letters are recognized by the same person. T is especially difficult of recognition and is apt to be mistaken for Y. By a similar optical illusion the angle of L is rounded off, making the letter resemble a reversed J. V is the easiest of all letters to recognize, and O presents little difficulty. K is more easily recognized than H, which resembles it closely, and both N and Z are easily recognized. A is easily guessed at from its general form, but is difficult of positive recognition, including distinct perception of the horizontal line. E and F are among the most difficult of all letters.

Equine Sagacity.
Here is a startling story of equine sagacity related by the London Tit-Bits. A horse was standing in the shafts of a carriage just outside a local theater. It had a weary look, as of one that desired repose.

Suddenly it brightened up, and before it could be stopped it made a dash for the box office.

The reasons for this unexpected behavior gave rise to much discussion till at last one of the crowd, more observant than the others, pointed out that the legend "To the stalls," was written in large letters over the box office window.

Law and Ordinance.
All "ordinances" are "laws," but all laws are not ordinances. Law is the wider term, applying to states, while ordinance has special reference to the municipality. Laws and ordinances are equally "rules of action" laid down by authority, but in the case of the ordinance the authority is of the minor sort—the city as opposed to the state.—New York American.

Anti-suffragists say that women have no warrior stuff in their makeup. But it required some sort of sand in Jane Addams to venture into Berlin on a peace mission.

ADORATION SERVICES AT ST. COLMAN'S

The Forty Hour Adoration held in St. Colman's church the past two days closes Tuesday night. This is an annual devotion, a continuous adoration of the Blessed Sacrament for forty hours, held in each parish in the diocese, according to its turn in assignment. It is an occasion of deep solemnity, observed by the parishioners with all reverence.

There has been great interest and good attendance throughout the seasons.

TO RAISE FUND OF $100,000

DELEGATES TO STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION WILL BE ASKED TO GET MONEY.

PLAN SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN

Money is Desired for the Purchase of Building for the State Association and as the Nucleus of an Endowment.

Delegates in attendance upon the State Sunday-school Convention, at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24, will be asked to authorize formally the raising of a fund of $100,000 by solicitation throughout the state. This money is desired for two purposes. The first is the purchase of a building, which shall be a permanent home for the State Sunday-school Association, and which will not only relieve that organization from the payment of rent, but will enable it to sub-let quarters, so there may be a revenue from this source. The remainder of the sum is expected to be the nucleus of an endowment.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, in outlining this purpose for the State Association, emphasized the fact that this money is not for the payment of a debt. Former State Secretary C. W. Shinn, in retiring, left the association out of debt for the first time in more than twenty years. His successor, Dr. J. D. Darling, has successfully continued the operation of the association along the same lines.

Leaders in the Sunday-school work, however, have many plans for extensions and additions to their activities which the present revenues are not adequate to cover. There is no intention of abandoning the present plan of financing current obligations. The revenues from the endowment fund, however, will be used for the introduction of new forms of enterprise which have not been possible heretofore.

A special committee, consisting of Dr. W. G. Clippinger, state president; W. A. Eudaly, Middletown; Dr. Herman Heston, Columbus; G. F. Bareis, Canal Winchester, and Dr. J. D. Darling, general secretary, have secured the services of Miss Anna B. Coushaine, of New York, who is known as the most successful campaign manager in this country. During the month of May and the first weeks of June, Miss Coushaine has been busy corresponding with the county secretaries throughout the state and speaking whenever an opportunity afforded. The details of her campaign will be explained at the State Convention.

The idea of a permanent home for the State Association, where committee meetings could be held, where a library could be established, and where a logical growth and expansion of the work could take place, has been a dream of many of the workers for a number of years. The responses received to date indicate that this dream is in a fair way of realization.

Miss Coushaine's plan is to perfect an organization in each one of the 68 counties, subdivide the work, ask for contributions in small sums and by the use of whirlwind methods finish the work in short order. It is believed that a couple of months in the summer will be all that will be required to raise the entire $100,000.

OHIO'S NEW SECRETARY

DR. J. D. DARLING,

Who is secretary of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, will not have completed his first year by the holding of the state convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24. He will not be a stranger to Ohio Sunday-school workers, however, as he has spent a majority of his time, since his election, in visiting through the state and attending county, district and city Sunday-school conventions.

SHE WILL RAISE FUNDS

MISS ANNA B. COUSHAINE,

Who has been selected by the Executive Committee of the Ohio Sunday-school Association as financial secretary, has been preparing for a campaign to raise $100,000 to buy the state association a home and to provide a nucleus of an endowment fund. Miss Coushaine will explain her plan before the State Sunday-school Convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, says of the coming convention to be held at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24: "I wish to emphasize for the coming convention the need of recognition of better educational ideas for the Sunday-school work. The training of both officers and teachers must be emphasized more and more. At the same time we want to inject into our work the finest kind of evangelistic spirit. This will include local evangelism and instruction and training in missions."

Bowser Knows Mankind

He Can Tell an Honest Man On Sight.

By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

In introducing Mr. Bowser to new readers he should be put in the right light at the very outset. He is simply an average husband, having and displaying no more pomposity, crudeness and the desire to lay it all on his wife than forty-nine husbands out of every fifty. He finds fault, but that is to be expected of a husband. It's his privilege-assumed, not granted. He is selfish to an extent, but find a husband who isn't. If things go wrong he blames Mrs. Bowser. Why shouldn't he? Her pains and her aches are nothing. His are everything, and the household must "stand around" accordingly. Ever know a husband who was different?

Mrs. Bowser has opinions, but they are of no weight compared with his. Mrs. Bowser can make $2 buy as much as his $3, but he won't admit it. Mrs. Bowser has trouble with her cook, but he'd get along as slick as grease, of course. For three days he will wear an old shirt all torn up the back and say nothing about it. On the fourth day if he should happen to find one loose stitch somewhere he'd declare his was the worst run house in all Amer-

"Indeed! What you can or cannot be here is of very little importance to a nation of 90,000,000 people. Mrs. Bowser. I say she was unworthy, and that settles it. However, I do not blame you so very much as she probably told a very plausible story. But let this be the last time. I am just as charitable as the next man, and perhaps more so, but I want to know who I'm giving to."

"I can't help but believe she was just what she represented herself," protested Mrs. Bowser.

"That matter was definitely settled, Mrs. Bowser—definitely settled, understand—when I declared her unworthy. I will some day give you instructions as to reading human nature, but until I do give to no more mendicants. You simply encourage fraud, vice, ignorance and crime. There is no telling but what your action in this case will land that woman behind prison bars tomorrow."

"I don't see how it could," she replied.

"Probably not. There's a great many things you haven't seen, can't see and never will see, Mrs. Bowser. When I am away give all such people the cold shoulder. When I am home refer them to me. In that way no mistakes can possibly arise."

About 8 o'clock that evening the gate bell rang, and pretty soon the cook came in and reported that there was a man outside who wanted money for a night's lodgings.

"Ah! Got the house located down fine, haven't they?" sarcastically exclaimed Mr. Bowser, who was reading his newspaper.

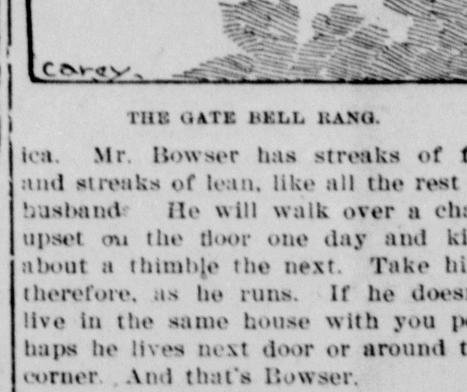

"Tell him we have nothing to give."

"You probably did," replied Mrs. Bowser. "She was a poor woman who had burned her hand and couldn't work with it, and I felt sorry for her."

"That's you—you to a dot! Never even saw her hand to know that her story was true."

"But I did. It was a very bad burn."

number?"
"Yes."

"And you went there to see if it was all right?"
"No. I took her word for it."

"Took her word! Well, you are a soft mash! I'll bet $100 to a cent that she was the biggest kind of a fraud. She probably is grinning now as she thinks how nicely she soft soaped you."

"I think she was deserving of what I did for her," quietly replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Oh, yes, of course. Mrs. Bowser, let me give you a little advice. You were born in the country, and"—

"Weren't you?"
"No, ma'am."

"Weren't you born exactly one mile east of Podunk?"
"No—that is to say, I was born there, but I was reared!"

"In Podunk itself, a hamlet of thirteen houses and a cider mill!"

"Mrs. Bowser," he continued after a moment, crossing his hands under his coat tails and balancing himself heel and toe, "I want to define my position in this matter. You were born and brought up in the country. You have never had a chance to study human nature as I have. The average face is the index of the average mind, but you haven't learned to read facial expressions yet."

"Have you?" she asked as he halted for breath.

"Certainly! Indeed, it came natural to me. I can detect an unworthy person at a glance. I can almost tell what he is thinking about. From the mere glance I got at that woman's face I would wager my shoes against a toothpick that she is a chronic beggar and a wretched fraud."

"I can't believe it," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Indeed! What you can or cannot be here is of very little importance to a nation of 90,000,000 people. Mrs. Bowser. I say she was unworthy, and that settles it. However, I do not blame you so very much as she probably told a very plausible story. But let this be the last time. NEW YORK

To the organizing and debating team composed of Hall and Summers, more than any one force, is attributed the fact that the State of Colorado joined the dry column. In the campaign just closed in Michigan, where a large part of the state was involved, they carried 14 out of 18 counties for the dry forces. They have been loaned by the Ohio Anti-Saloon League to the Ohio Sunday-school Association for the state convention at Zanesville for Wednesday evening, June 23, when they will put on their famous debate, in which Mr. Hall represents himself as a saloonkeeper and Mr. Summers that of a license commissioner. In their dialogue all the fallacious arguments advanced in behalf of the license system are successively met and put down. This debate has held the attention of as many as 5,000 persons

ITALIANS MOVE ON TRIESTE

Rome, June 15.—The Italian army has captured Monfalcone is pressing forward toward Trieste and is meeting with success, according to official dispatches received here. The Austrian forces, which are offering increasingly stronger resistance, are preparing to make a stand. It is understood, at Nabresina, only nine miles from Trieste.

Meanwhile Italian armies are closing in on Gorizia from three sides and fighting with unexpected success, while elsewhere the struggle is going forward, according to the war office, without repulse and with continued vigor.

The occupation of Cortina, in the upper Cadore Alps, the war office says, is not only barred the way to hostile invasion (evidently expected from this quarter), but has opened the way to an important offensive, probably to be directed across the mountains to Belluno. Nothing is said respecting the proximity of Italian troops to Trent, but the feeling is growing that that city will shortly be under bombardment, if it is not already, and that its occupation will be only a matter of days.

Just at present, however, the greatest interest centers on the campaign in the east, where the Italian forces have crossed the Isonzo and are threatening Gorizia and Trieste. The fighting along this front is said to be of the severest character, especially at Gorizia, which is now practically isolated. The railways to this fortress, which have not been cut, are dominated by Italian artillery, placed on the surrounding heights, and are consequently of little if any use.

The war office took occasion, in spite of the recent encouraging news, to warn the people against too great optimism, explaining that the terrain is almost entirely mountainous and has been fortified by the Austrians beforehand.

General Cadorna reported the partial destruction of the Austrian fortress of Malborgia, in the Carnic Alps. During a violent bombardment several shells dropped simultaneously in an ammunition magazine. The resultant explosion shook the mountain side and the masonry was blown to bits.

GERMANS RENEW FIERCE ATTACKS

Paris, June 15.—Fighting of the most violent character continues without interruption in the district north of Arras. The French are determined to hold at any cost the ground captured around Souchez and north of the sugar refinery, which was taken after almost two weeks of continuous fighting. The Germans, on the other hand, are launching new attacks daily against the French lines, but every one is immediately repulsed. They succeeded Sunday in retaking some of the trenches lost on the previous day directly north of the sugar refinery, but were unable to follow up their gain, new attacks being promptly checked. A gain of 150 meters to the east of Lorette is recorded in the official communiqué. Progress was made in the region of the Que Jevieres farm and also in Lorraine, in the region of Embermenil.

DECIDED SLUMP IN SALOON BUSINESS

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Only 527 applications for saloon licenses will be considered July 7, when the licenses for the ensuing six months are granted. The reason the term "only" is used is that last year at this time 616 applications were on file. Wilbur F. Hall, secretary of the police board, believes that the slump in the saloon business in Kansas City is due first to a growing prohibition sentiment and the ban put on the use of liquor by employers in all lines of business, and second, to stringent regulation.

CINCINNATI WOMAN ATTACKED IN FLAT

Cincinnati, June 15.—A mysterious assault that may result fatally to Mrs. Jennie Dryden, thirty-four, took place in the Dryden apartments. Mrs. Dryden was found in the hallway of her home in a semi-conscious condition and hurried to a hospital. There it was found that she had been assaulted with a blunt instrument, had sustained a fractured skull and possibly concussion of the brain. Her recovery is doubtful. She has four children.

UNCLE SAM IN CHARGE OF RIVER

Youngstown, O., June 15.—Mahoning county commissioners received word from Captain Harold C. Fiske of the United States engineering corps to the effect that the federal government has assumed control of the Mahoning river from Warren to its junction with the Beaver river in Pennsylvania. Plans for bridges, dikes, dams etc., must hereafter be submitted to the government for approval.

MORGAN TO AID BRITISH WOUNDED

London, June 15.—J. P. Morgan has offered Dover House to Queen Mary's convalescent auxiliary hospitals, an institution recently organized for sailors and soldiers who have lost their limbs. Dover House is to be used for convalescing officers. Rochampton House, which is near by, also has been acquired. The two places will accommodate about 300 patients.

MISSING STUDENT FOUND IN GOTHAM

New Haven, Conn., June 15.—Warren Bishop of Bridgeport, one of the wealthiest students at Yale, has been missing since June 6. His family has located him in New York, where he had gone on a vacation.

AMERICAN BISHOP GETS A PROMOTION

Rome, June 15.—The pope has promoted Bishop Thomas F. Kennedy, rector of the American college at Rome, to be titular archbishop of Seleucia.

Wild Cinnamon.

Although the cultivation of cinnamon on the plantations in French Indo-China is constantly increasing, most of the product is obtained from a wild shrub growing in the forest. When a native discovers a cinnamon tree he must make a declaration before the local administration, who cut down the tree and authenticate its product. The profit accruing to the discoverer of a single tree sometimes reaches a large sum. The variety most prized is the wild royal cinnamon of Thanh-Hoa, which is thought by the Chinese to possess a high medicinal value.

BASEBALL

Fans will greet with enthusiasm the announcement of the Athletic management that Billy Hedges, former Washington catcher now playing ball in Columbus, has been signed up to backstop for Washington in the game with Wilmington, Sunday. Gerlach, who was first announced for catcher, will be retained on the bench.

Another thing is the probability of getting Lewis, of Columbus, for third sack. The deal has not been closed but it is intimated that the effort being made to secure him is firmly expected to prove successful. It is probable that Manager Noon will go to Columbus Wednesday to make sure.

Lewis and his ability are not very well known to most of the local fans. He played here a year or two ago and those who remember his game at that time will recall that he was a player of exceptional speed.

Rhodes, of Columbus, who played short here last Sunday and who will be on the local lineup again in the Wilmington game, says Lewis is better than ever this season.

It looks like the Clintons are going to have a real ball game on their hands after all.

WEIR HAS WRITTEN THREE MORE PLAYS

Hugh C. Weir, local author and writer of scenarios now connected with the official writing staff of the Universal Film Corporation at Universal City, Cal., has written three plays since he left here to take up his residence and position in the west. The announcement is contained in leading picture play journals.

The first of Weir's plays was written on the train when the Universal artists and business directors were on their way to open the city, some weeks ago. It is entitled "The Opening of the Only Universal Moving Picture City in the World," in which Mr. Carl Laemmle, president of the company, is the leading character.

"The Circus Girl's Romance" is another Weir production which features Marie Walcamp, prominent photoplay star. This picture was taken with the assistance of the Sells Floto and Buffalo Bill Circus and was personally directed by Buffalo Bill himself.

King Bagot, famous movie star, is the leading man for another of Weir's plays, "The Adventure of the Yellow Curl Papers."

Mr. Weir was one of several artists producing "The Broken Coin," a new serial of the Universal Corporation featuring Francis Ford and Grace Cunard of "Lucile Love" fame.

WATER THREATENED TO FLOOD HOMES

Sewers failing to work properly, one part of New Holland was flooded late Monday night, and a call was made to the local power company asking that the lights be kept burning. While the water reached almost to the first floors of a few residences, no damage resulted.

The call for light gave rise to a report that a fire was raging in New Holland.

VIOLENCE BEGINS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 15.—Three acts of violence, as a result of the street car strike, were reported today. A big plank was thrown at an elevated train from a fire escape and a brick was hurled at a window of another train. An acid bomb was also thrown at a train.

It is reported from Philadelphia that it is planned to get 1,500 men there for work on the street car lines in Chicago.

Chicago, June 15.—An army of Chicagoans went to their occupations today in automobiles, vans, delivery wagons and on foot and the seriousness of the strike of 14,000 street car employees began to be realized.

Not a wheel was to be turned on the surface lines, but it was planned to operate elevated trains throughout the daylight hours. All will be guarded by squads of detectives.

Peace proposals are being considered in many quarters today. At one station of a steam road maintaining suburban service a crowd, unable to obtain a foothold on earlier trains, broke through a barbed wire fence and swarmed on the train, with men riding on the cowcatcher, coal tender and running boards.

up at navy yards, where they rapidly deteriorate, like a vacant house. All small ships and all cruisers now laid up for lack of men are needed in Mexico and elsewhere, and should be ready for an emergency call to prevent the employment of battleships at gunboat duty. The complement of enlisted men at shore stations and training stations has been cut down, with a decided loss of efficiency; and greatly to the discontent and discom-fort of the men.

"The investigation of our national defense and a comprehensive plan for the future should be an obliga-tory matter in our next Congress for the navy belongs to the people of the country, and they have a right to know its condition and how it is being managed. The mere appropria-tion of vastly increased sums would not be instrumental in bringing about the necessary reforms or military efficiency of the organization, that can only be accomplished by an investigation of actual condi-tions, and a demand for needed changes in the way of military re-forms, which would be forced upon Congress by an enlightened public sentiment.

"This investigation and knowledge has been denied to the people by the leaders of the party in power. It is deplorable that there should be an influence to deceive the people in a matter of such vital importance. We have reached a period in the world's history when it must be recognized that if we are to maintain peace, and safeguard the interests of our people, we must be prepared to defend ourselves. Let us not forget—as the nation is, so also are its government, its public, its army and its navy."

DISTANCE A GUN CAN SHOOT.

Main Factors Are Initial Velocity and Angle of Elevation.

The distance a shot can be thrown depends primarily on two things—the velocity with which it leaves the muzzle and the angle of elevation above the horizontal. Other things affect it also, but these two are all important. Of course a light shell will lose its velocity quicker than a heavy one, for it has less stored up energy to overcome the friction of the air. Temperature and the humidity of the air both have their effect. But the two great features are initial velocity and angle of elevation.

Any one who throws a ball knows that it is higher near the center of its flight than at either end. The farther it is thrown the higher it is at the center. It was long ago found that any projectile to reach a maximum range must be thrown at about forty-five degrees above the horizontal. This applies to a baseball as well as a 1,000 pound shell. If it is thrown higher it fails short in distance, for too much of our effort has been expended in giving it height. If thrown lower gravitation pulls it to the ground before it has covered its maximum distance.

Another thing—the ball or shell fails at a greater angle than that with which it started. If it is thrown at forty-five degrees elevation it will fall with near sixty degrees because of the retarding effect of the atmospheric friction. This friction is continually slowing up the projectile and eventually all but stops it. But meantime the action of gravitation is pulling it farther and farther downward from its initial path. The net result is to bring it to earth much sooner than if the second half of its flight were the counterpart (reversed) of the first half.—Sidney Graves Koon, M. E., in Leslie's.

By Associated Press.

London, June 15.—The House of Commons this afternoon voted another credit of 250,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,250,000,000) making, with previous sums, a total of 862,000,000 pounds sterling ($4,310,000,000) already allowed for war purposes.

13,547 officers and men of the British navy, including marines and members of the naval division, have crossed the Isonzo were pushing forward toward Trieste, a Rome official statement today gives no indication of a further advance in this direction. The Isonzo situation is dismissed with references to minor engagements and a statement that Austrian losses have been serious.

Elsewhere small Italian victories are claimed. Austria is charged with the encouragement of brigandage in territory occupied by the Italians.

CAPT. TURNER CLAIMS
LUSITANIA UNARMED

Examiners Taking Evidence on Sinking of Lusitania Claim Two Torpedoes and Possibly Three Were Fired Without Warning, and That Contentions of The United States Are to be Confirmed.

By Associated Press.

London, June 15.—The inquiry into the loss of the Lusitania was opened in London today. Nothing is to be made public concerning the orders sent to the ship by the British Admiralty, but testimony showing the actions of those in charge of the steamer after the torpedoes were fired will be permitted.

Attorney General Sir Edward Carson, in his opening statement, said the Lusitania was steaming at only 18 knots an hour at the time of the attack, using only two of her boilers. This was done to save coal and labor on account of light traffic.

"The Lusitania was not armed and she was never fitted out as a transport," was one of Sir Edward's statements.

Captain Turner of the Lusitania said the ship was not armed, either for offense or defense, and carried no masked guns. He confirmed Sir Edward's statement as to the speed of the Lusitania and the number of her boilers in operation.

The captain estimated that 10 seconds after the Lusitania was struck it was impossible to stand on deck. He said the three difficulties in rescuing passengers were the list of the ship; her headway, which carried her two or three miles after being struck and the shortness of time.

The captain testified he had given orders to look out for submarines and to proceed at full speed if any were sighted. He said the boats had been swung out the morning of the day preceding the torpedoing.

When asked whether the passengers were giving help, as far as they were able he replied: "Interfering, I should say." He added, however, that the passengers showed a desire to assist in every way possible.

Sir Edward Carson said he was able to give a complete denial of the contention of the German government that the Lusitania was an armed vessel carrying guns.

"In their note to Germany," Sir Edward Carson said, "The United States already have officially denied this, and the evidence I have proposed to call will confirm and fully prove the remarks of the American government.

"Without a warning a German submarine fired two torpedoes at the Lusitania and it is believed a third projectile was fired. To sink passengers in this manner was a deliberate attempt at murder."

WILSON REFUSES TO MAKE
KNOWN CHANGES IN NOTE

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 15.—Reports that the United States had declined to become a party to efforts in various neutral countries to make peace in Europe were said by President Wilson today to be untrue. He declared the Washington government had done everything that could be legitimately done to encourage any movement that might lead to peace or an accommodation of interests in Europe.

The president said Colonel House, who recently investigated the peace prospects in Europe, had not been sent for by him, but he expected to see the colonel here soon.

President Wilson was asked by the Washington correspondents today just what the changes were to which former Secretary Bryan referred as having been made in the recent American note to Germany after his resignation as secretary of state had been tendered and accepted. Mr. Wilson felt it was best for him not to discuss the resignation or other questions connected with it. The president had no comment to offer on the situation with Germany.

The Vossische Zeitung comments as follows on the arrest in Cincinnati of Heinz Hardenberg, said to be a member of the German aviation corps, in connection with the investigation of the Lusitania disaster by the Federal Grand Jury in New York:

"The review in New York this year was a poor imitation of previous reviews, in that the reserve fleet was absent. It was a mere parade, not a mobilization. It did not indicate the true condition of the navy because the people did not know the whole truth."

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO END. CAR STRIKE

Chicago, June 15.—Operation of ten trains of five cars each on a fifteen minute schedule, on the South Side elevated system, without interference, prompted officials of the elevated roads to make plans to extend the service to the Metropolitan elevated system on the West and Northwest sides. Nonunion men have been engaged to man a limited number of surface cars, and an attempt to operate will be made within forty-eight hours. Early action on the surface lines was also forecasted in a communication sent to Mayor Thompson by President Busby requesting police protection and stating that service would be resumed.

Entrance of the state board of arbitration into the strike of the 14,000 employees of the surface and elevated lines and efforts to bring about arbitration through the offices of the mayor and an aldermanic committee marked the progress of the strike. The trouble came to the official attention of the city council in the form of a series of resolutions, one of which provided for a board of five aldermen to act as mediators. The peace committee, according to the provisions of the resolution, will be named by the mayor.

The efforts of the state board of arbitration to bring about a return to normal transportation conditions took the form of two communications. One was addressed to the public and the other to the officials of the traction companies and officials of the unions of the striking employees.

In both communications attention was called to the statute that the state board may intervene at the request of interested parties, or whenever it seems likely that the public will suffer inconvenience or deprivation of communication or transportation. It is further stated that the time has now arrived for intervention by the board, and the co-operation of all parties.

With one exception, trains were operated without violence. The exception was an injury sustained by Sergeant Otto Earison, who was the target for a wooden block hurled by a strike sympathizer, who stood on a fire escape as the train was crossing Fourteenth street. The policeman was severely cut by falling glass.

Company officials expressed themselves as pleased with the efforts to break the strike, and entered a denial that the trains had been operated with imported labor. In a statement President Britton Budd said: "There is one point that I wish to emphasize, and that is that we ran our South Side trains with old and faithful employees. We are not using new hands in operating these trains, but with men who are true to their employers."

Official figures show that 4,500 cars are idle and 14,500 men out. More than 1,200 miles of trackage is tied up and 19 power houses closed. The companies are deprived of $200,000 daily income. More than three million passengers are carried daily by the lines involved.

CASH REGISTER PEOPLE SCORE

Washington, June 15.—The supreme court declined to review the reversal by the sixth United States circuit court of appeals of the conviction of officials of the National Cash Register company of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

By the decision the government lost the most important criminal prosecution that has yet come to trial under the Sherman law, and what was regarded by former Attorney General Wickes and Attorney General Gregory as probably the most far-reaching suit of its kind in the government's long list of prosecutions of trusts.

The circuit court reversed the convictions of President John H. Patterson and other officers of the National Cash Register company, which carried jail sentences, although it did not deny the government the right to proceed in some other way. The convicted officials contend the supreme court had no jurisdiction to review the action of the court which had upset the lower verdicts.

The government's case contained many sensational allegations of unfair competition and monopoly, and in its appeal to the supreme court for a review referred to the defendants as "steeped in deliberate guilt."

Department of Justice officials made no secret that they considered the efficacy of the criminal section of the Sherman law as at stake in the case, which was lost to the government. They stated after the court's announcement that nothing remained but for the government to proceed in the lower court. It may ask to have the cases dismissed or press for a second trial in the district court.

The supreme court decided the long standing Virginia-West Virginia debt case, holding West Virginia should pay $12,393,939 as its share of the Virginia debt at the time of the partition of the states.

Columbus, June 15.—Students of Ohio State university in the future will be able to borrow sums of money varying from $20 to $75, at a low rate of interest and payable some time after graduation, as the result of presentation to the university of a loan fund of $1,200 by this year's graduating class. The fund is the class' memorial to the institution.

Newark, O., June 15.—George Edwards, twenty-one, president of the Ohio State junior agricultural class, is in a serious condition at the home of his parents near here as a result of being stung when he attempted to drive a swarm of bees on his father's farm. He was stung probably 1,000 times.

Deputy Inspectors Named.

Columbus, June 15.—Thirty-two jobs paying $1,200 or less were given to Republicans by State Oil Inspector J. M. Carr, who announced the appointment of that number of deputy inspectors. The list was approved by Governor Willis. An additional list will be announced next week.

WESLEYAN TO RAISE MILLION

Delaware, O., June 15.—Plans for the diamond jubilee at commencement in 1919, marking the seventy-fifth anniversary of the university and financial campaign for $1,000,000, were outlined by President Herbert Welch of Ohio Wesleyan university in his annual message to the board of trustees. The first unit of the $1,000,000 goal is to be a fund of $600,000 in cash for buildings and endowment.

The remaining $400,000 of the $1,000,000 it is planned to secure by bequest, on annuity, or in cash gifts for other purposes than endowment or buildings, or in additional cash for these same purposes. The plan of the committee is that pledges for the $600,000 should be secured by May 1, 1917, and the campaign will actively begin this fall.

"In all the European capitals I found unbounded optimism," he said. "The Parisians are sure of winning; so are the people of Berlin; so are those of London. Being a neutral, I can only say I hope they'll all win. Because of the great battles that have been fought there is a general shortage of ammunition in all countries. I found that there is a good supply of food in Germany." O'Shaughnessy's wife is in Rome. He left for Washington.

New York, June 15.—Allan L. It was learned that the president does not plan to send another note to Great Britain protesting against the interference with commerce between the United States and neutral countries of Europe until the discussion with Germany has shaped itself more clearly. This does not necessarily mean, it was said, that the president will wait until a reply is received from Germany, though the British note scarcely will go forward until some definite idea has been gained of the character of the next communication from Berlin.

Colonel E. M. House is expected to give the president much valuable information, not only regarding the feeling in Germany, but about the possibility of obtaining a modification by Great Britain and France of their blockade operations as they affect neutral commerce.

THE PRESIDENT EXPECTS PEACEFUL OUTCOME

Washington, June 15.—President Wilson feels encouraged by reports that the pending negotiations between Germany and the United States most likely will have a peaceful outcome. This feeling is based on both official and unofficial reports from Berlin telling of the favorable reception there of the American note, and on the hope, too, that the dispatches carried by Dr. Anton Meyer Gerhard for Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will impress German officials with the American point of view.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who saw the president and who has been talking with other officials about the situation, spoke of finding a general feeling of optimism.

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO END CAR STRIKE

Chicago, June 15.—Operation of ten trains of five cars each on a fifteen minute schedule, on the South Side elevated system, without interference, prompted officials of the elevated roads to make plans to extend the service to the Metropolitan elevated system on the West and Northwest sides. Nonunion men have been engaged to man a limited number of surface cars, and an attempt to operate will be made within forty-eight hours. Early action on the surface lines was also forecasted in a communication sent to Mayor Thompson by President Busby requesting police protection and stating that service would be resumed.

Entrance of the state board of arbitration into the strike of the 14,000 employees of the surface and elevated lines and efforts to bring about arbitration through the offices of the mayor and an aldermanic committee marked the progress of the strike. The trouble came to the official attention of the city council in the form of a series of resolutions, one of which provided for a board of five aldermen to act as mediators. The peace committee, according to the provisions of the resolution, will be named by the mayor.

The efforts of the state board of arbitration to bring about a return to normal transportation conditions took the form of two communications. One was addressed to the public and the other to the officials of the traction companies and officials of the unions of the striking employees.

In both communications attention was called to the statute that the state board may intervene at the request of interested parties, or when ever it seems likely that the public will suffer inconvenience or deprivation of communication or transportation. It is further stated that the time has now arrived for intervention by

Washington, June 15.—The supreme court declined to review the reversal by the sixth United States circuit court of appeals of the conviction of officials of the National Cash Register company of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

By the decision the government lost the most important criminal prosecution that has yet come to trial under the Sherman law, and what was regarded by former Attorney General Wickes and Attorney General Gregory as probably the most far-reaching suit of its kind in the government's long list of prosecutions of trusts.

The circuit court reversed the convictions of President John H. Patterson and other officers of the National Cash Register company, which carried jail sentences, although it did not deny the government the right to proceed in some other way. The convicted officials contend the supreme court had no jurisdiction to review the action of the court which had upset the lower verdicts.

The government's case contained many sensational allegations of unfair competition and monopoly, and in its appeal to the supreme court for a review referred to the defendants as "steeped in deliberate guilt."

Department of justice officials made no secret that they considered the efficacy of the criminal section of the Sherman law as at stake in the case, which was lost to the government. They stated after the court's announcement that nothing remained but for the government to proceed in the lower court. It may ask to have the cases dismissed or press for a second trial in the district court.

The supreme court decided the long standing Virginia-West Virginia debt case, holding West Virginia should pay $12,393,939 as its share of the Virginia debt at the time of the partition of the states.

Poetry For Today

THE SEA.

Break, break, break,
On the cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could
utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O, well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at
play!
O, well for the sailor lad,
That he sings in his boat on the
bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished
hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still.

Break, break, break,
At the foot thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is
dead
Will never come back to me.

ROMANCE IN GEOGRAPHY.

Names That Speak of Achievement and of Desperate Need.

Geography is a fascinating study. The history of the human race is written in large characters on the earth's surface for the seeing eye.

Most people know that Pike's peak commemorates the explorations of a daring young officer early in the last century. But how many know that in the name of the Bill Williams, river lingers the only memorial to a famous trapper and Indian fighter of Kit Carson's time, to whom the Rocky mountain country was an open book before even Fremont "blazed the trail" to the Pacific.

It is around Hudson straits that names cry most loudly of achievement and of desperate need. Fancy what the Bay of God's Mercy meant to the man who first gave it that name! Or the heart breaking effort indicated by Terror point. Contrast Repulse bay and Mistake bay with the peace implied in Home bay and Cape Comfort.

It is difficult to estimate the exact depth and breadth of the irony that found vent in Navy Board inlet, while Mary Jones bay fairly breathes a longing for the commonplace comforts and safety of home. Resolution island and Hope's Advance bay speak sternly of the undiminished courage of whalers or explorers in those barren waters.

Outing.

Foresight is very wise, but fore sorrow is very foolish, and castles are at any rate better than dungeons in the air.—Sir John Lubbock.

When you see a man kicking a stray dog you can bet that he is the kind of fellow whose wife and children hate to see him come home at night.

A woman can paint her face and be all right. But a man seldom gives her the benefit of the doubt when he sees the paint.

Appearances may be deceitful. But a man looking for a wife would rather take a chance on a pretty girl than on a homely one.

A woman can be narrow minded and still have a hard time squeezing into a morris chair when she wants to sit down.

Our idea of a real modest girl would be one who is ashamed to dress in front of a looking glass.

The trouble with having a genius in the family is that the rest of the family have to support him.

A man likes to yelp that his wife can't fix meals like mother used to cook. But you couldn't get him to marry an old lady with mother's experience in the cooking line.

One half the world owes money that it can't pay, and the other half has money out that it can't collect.

A husband is the sort of bluffer who gives his wife $5 to spend on herself and tells her what a generous lad he is. Then he makes her pay for his laundry when the laundryman comes and pay for his beer when the beer man comes and pay for the suit he sent up to get cleaned and pressed. And along about Friday he will borrow a dollar from her. And on Saturday he will get mad because she wants some money and will ask her what she did with the $5 he gave her for herself last Saturday.

Any married man is entitled to sympathy unless he has married the second time.

A man can have a reputation downtown of being the best natured fellow in the world, but somehow or other his wife never guesses it.

following process: The pin point is applied in the twist of the large figure 5 at the two upper corners of the note. These tiny twists do not appear in the "necks" of the two figures 5 that are at both ends of the bottom of the note. The note is now pierced again, this time in the ends of the scrolls on each side of the word five in the lower center of the bill. The marking is now complete. In secret it is exhibited to one or more persons for purposes of identification and is then placed in the till or money drawer to which the suspected person has access.

It is said that the pinpricks will remain perfect for some time. When such bills are produced in court and their marking is explained under oath conviction is practically certain.—Every Week.

The Building of Blenheim.

Blenheim palace was built out of the first grant ever voted by parliament in return for public services. But the treasury proved so slow in doing out the money for the building that the architect, Sir John Vanbrugh, tried to extract an advance from the Duke of Marlborough to pay the workmen when their wages fell into arrear. Marlborough refused to be lied. According to Isaac Disraeli, the duke, "aware that if he gave any order or suggested any alteration he might be involved in the expense of the building, was never to be circumvented—never to be surprised into a spontaneous emotion of pleasure or disapprobation. Although friendly with Vanbrugh, he never spoke to him or to any one acting under his orders about Blenheim."—London Globe.

The Wet Weather

The heavy showers of rain during the past few days have compelled a realization that the weather conditions in this section are becoming serious.

The storm of Sunday created havoc with hundreds of acres of growing wheat in northeastern Fayette and the southwestern section of Madison county. Farther away from here the damage to growing crops and buildings was greater. The heavy wind and rain pounded the wheat down almost flat on the ground and only the most optimistic among the farmers have faith that it will be able to raise up again.

Then too, the wheat harvest and the hay harvest are near at hand and both crops need hot, dry weather to bring them to proper maturity. The corn, while growing splendidly, is being overrun with weeds and grass and is badly in need of cultivation.

The prospect for bumper crops in all lines was never brighter than it is this year, but many people, especially the more timid folks, are beginning to get a little uneasy about the long spell of wet weather.

So far no real damage has been done, save that by the strong wind Sunday afternoon.

It means, perhaps, more to the farmers of this section this year than ever before, to be able to get dollars at harvest times on the prospects of the spring season.

Peace Prospects in Mexico

One bright ray which shines through the dark clouds of war is the prospect of a cessation of the strife and turmoil in Mexico.

The armies of Carranza have been successful on the fields of battle and the cause of Carranza has been gaining in popularity with the masses of the Mexican people.

Villa has met with such tremendous reverses in battle that his troops are discouraged and he is willing to meet with his former chieftain and the leaders of the several other rebel factions in Mexico, in an endeavor to reach a conclusion as to the future of Mexico and the relation which each one of the numerous patriots and leaders in Mexico shall assume toward the government.

Another favorable indication for the restoration of peace and order in Mexico, and the establishing of a permanent government, is the fact that Carranza, when victory seems within his grasp, is anxious to secure the recognition and the friendly assistance of the United States.

In the realization that no one man is powerful enough to assume the role of dictator in Mexico and to maintain his authority by the sword and that the time has come in Mexico when the older order must give way to the new, when men can no longer, under a claim of benefit to the masses appropriate to themselves the autocratic powers of those who have gone before, is the hope of a return to reason and order in Mexico.

The Proposed "Road Levy."

The county commissioners of this county have passed a resolution providing for increasing the tax levy each year in the sum of two mills. It is the announced purpose of the commissioners to spend the sum which this two mill levy on all the taxable property of the county will produce, in building good roads.

The fact that Fayette county needs better roads is not susceptible of denial and the assertion that a great many more than half of the people of the county want better roads, and are willing, even anxious, to pay for them is absolutely correct.

The present method of road building by the state is not working satisfactorily in Fayette county. The "aid" seems to be too slow coming to be of appreciable benefit. This county has a tremendous amount of road mileage and it is a small county too.

Whether the plan now suggested for the people to place a burden on themselves to the extent of two mills on their taxable property is wise or not depends entirely upon the plan of expenditure.

Because we are not "getting anywhere" now in road building is no reason why the people should raise eighty thousand dollars a year in addition to other taxes, unless they have some guarantee that they will get real value for it.

If the plan is a good one—will produce the desired result—and the funds are safeguarded in a way that will insure, in spite of changes in officialdom, its judicious expenditure the people will vote for it. Otherwise the proposal should be, and will be, defeated.

Poetry For Today

THE SEA.

Break, break, break,
On thy cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could
utter

The thoughts that arise in me.

O, well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at
play!

O, well for the sailor lad.
That he sings in his boat on the
bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished
hand,

And the sound of a voice that is still.

Break, break, break,
At the foot thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is
dead

Will never come back to me.

ROMANCE IN GEOGRAPHY.

Names That Speak of Achievement and of Desperate Need.

Geography is a fascinating study. The history of the human race is written in large characters on the earth's surface for the seeing eye.

Most people know that Pike's peak commemorates the explorations of a daring young officer early in the last century. But how many know that in the name of the Bill Williams, river lingers the only memorial to a famous trapper and Indian fighter of Carson's time, to whom the Rocky mountain country was an open book before even Fremont "blazed the trail" to the Pacific.

It is around Hudson straits that names cry most loudly of achievement and of desperate need. Fancy what the Bay of God's Mercy meant to the man who first gave it that name! Or the heart breaking effort indicated by Terror point. Contrast Repulse bay and Mistake bay with the peace implied in Home bay and Cape Comfort.

It is difficult to estimate the exact depth and breadth of the irony that found vent in Navy Board inlet, while Mary Jones bay fairly breathes a longing for the commonplace comforts and safety of home. Resolution island and Hope's Advance bay speak sturdily of the undiminished courage of whalers or explorers in those barren waters. —Outing.

INVISIBLE ICEBERGS.

Conditions Under Which They Cannot Be Seen on Clear Nights.

In a recent communication to the New York Tribune Abbott H. Thayer, the artist, asserts that many vessels have been lost by collisions with icebergs because under certain conditions of sky and light they are invisible. He cites the fact that on the occasion of the Titanic disaster, although the black ship was clearly visible to survivors at a distance of several miles, they could not see the white bergs against which they actually heard the wash of the sea.

Mr. Thayer claims that on a clear, starry night the bergs are so nearly the same color as the sky that they are totally invisible and that the same is the case under many conditions of cloudiness, the only exception being when the side of the berg viewed is in such shadow that it shows black against the sky. In other words, it is impossible to see white against white.

In answer to the criticism of those who say they never saw a berg at night that was the color of the sky the answer is that this is very natural, because this is the very condition under which the berg is invisible. Mr. Thayer makes the suggestion that a very simple way to avoid the danger of colliding with an invisible berg would be to use a searchlight. The reflection would show up the berg very plainly.

TWO TRAIN RIDERS ARE KILLED IN WRECK ON D.T. & I.

Two men from Jackson were killed and all traffic tied up for nine hours, Monday night, when eight freight cars and the caboose of north bound D. T. & I. train No. 54 left the rails at South Charleston about six o'clock. The wreck was caused by a broken journal on a car laden with coal.

The mishap occurred just north of the depot in South Charleston, and near the mill and while the train was running at a fair rate of speed. When the journal snapped it caused the trucks of the car to leave the rails instantly and a moment later the track was torn up, three cars were overturned and the other five cars and caboose were derailed but not seriously damaged.

The two men killed, both of whom are said to have resided in Jackson, were stealing a ride and were caught between the cars and crushed so that death was almost instantaneous. One report states that the men's names were Johnson and Bingham. They

"Paul B. Blessing, local manager of the branch factory of the M. B. Hamilton Glove Co., of Leavenworth, Kans., and one of Chillicothe's youngest and able business men, was found dead in his office in the factory building on South Elm street, Saturday morning, shortly after 11:00 o'clock. He was found by Ralph Hoyt, foreman of the manufacturing department. The phone in the office had been ringing insistently for some time and Mr. Hoyt, thinking that possibly Mr. Blessing had left the office, went down to answer it. It was then that he discovered the body. Believing that Paul had merely fainted, Mr. Hoyt, with the assistance of Howard Smith another of the factory employees, carried him out into the air and summoned physicians. He was dead when they arrived."

SCHOOL CASE NOW IN HANDS OF THE COURT

Judge Clarence Curtain now has the school case (C. P. West et al. vs. the County Board of Education) under consideration and a decision is expected in the near future.

No sensational evidence was introduced by the witnesses called to the stand by the plaintiffs, and after the plaintiffs rested their case a motion was made by the defense asking that the case be dismissed on the grounds that the charges were not sustained by the evidence. This motion was overruled, and the case was argued by John Logan for the plaintiff and J. D. Post and C. A. Reid for the defense after which the Court took the case under consideration.

The testimony offered consisted chiefly of evidence tending to prove that the County Board had no authority to make the change which caused the suit.

Considerable interest centers on the outcome of the suit, not only among boards of education but among all patrons of the rural schools.

ERASmus DeWitt ENTERS UNKNOWN

Mr. John E. DeWitt, of the Columbus pike, was notified early Tuesday morning of the death of his brother, Erasmus DeWitt, which occurred at the family home in Springfield at 5:45 a.m. Death was due to poison from carbolic acid, it is said.

Relatives at once left for Springfield to accompany the remains to Washington for burial.

Arrangements for the funeral will be announced in Wednesday's Herald.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Green DeWitt, long since passed away, and who for many years were prominent residents of Wayne township, this county. John E. DeWitt, of this county, and Fleming DeWitt, of Springfield, are the only survivors of the children.

The deceased leaves a wife, five sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. Only one of this family is married.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER AROUSES NEIGHBORHOOD

A colored man, described as small of stature and well dressed, has aroused the east Market street neighborhood by his suspicious actions.

It is said this man has been skulking about the barns and alleys of this part of the city, causing considerable alarm to the women and children. He has been loafing about the neighborhood for several days and has been observed to hide behind barns and fences when approached.

Nothing has been stolen from any of the premises on which he has been seen, indicating that the man is probably deranged or has a more subtle purpose.

The police have been informed, that all must experience during our week.

The case of Orzilia Fulton against John A. Fulton et al was argued to Judge Newby.

Where the Last Battle Was Fought In Great Britain.

The last battle fought on the soil of Great Britain took place in the middle of the eighteenth century. While George II. was engaged in the war of the Austrian succession Charles Edward, who was called the young pretender, a grandson of King James II. of England, landed in Scotland and made two attempts to obtain the throne of his ancestors. He was victorious in the battle of Falkirk, but the Duke of Cumberland, son of George II., having been recalled from the continent to take command of the king's forces, the pretender was defeated at Culloden Moor, a plain in Scotland four miles from Inverness.

This was the last battle fought on the island of Great Britain and took place April 16, 1746, and it was also the last attempt on the part of the Stuart family to recover the throne of Great Britain. Charles Edward Stuart escaped to France after he had wandered five months in the highlands. He died in Rome, Jan. 30, 1788.

The Duke of Cumberland gave no quarter. The wounded were all slain, and the jails of England were filled with prisoners, many of whom were executed. Among the latter were Lords Balmerino, Kilmarnock and Lovat, Lovat being the last person who was beheaded in England. —Philadelphia Press.

There have been no additional arrests made to date. McCoy entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before the mayor last week.

NOW IN HANDS
OF THE COURT

Judge Clarence Curtain now has the school case (C. P. West et al. vs. the County Board of Education) under consideration and a decision is expected in the near future.

No sensational evidence was introduced by the witnesses called to the stand by the plaintiffs, and after the plaintiffs rested their case a motion was made by the defense asking that the case be dismissed on the grounds that the charges were not sustained by the evidence. This motion was overruled, and the case was argued by John Logan for the plaintiff and J. D. Post and C. A. Reid for the defense after which the Court took the case under consideration.

The testimony offered consisted chiefly of evidence tending to prove that the County Board had no authority to make the change which caused the suit.

Considerable interest centers on the outcome of the suit, not only among boards of education but among all patrons of the rural schools.

ERASMIUS DEWITT ENTERS UNKNOWN

Mr. John E. DeWitt, of the Columbus pike, was notified early Tuesday morning of the death of his brother, Erasmus DeWitt, which occurred at the family home in Springfield at 5:45 a. m. Death was due to poison from carbolic acid, it is said.

Arrangements for the funeral will be announced in Wednesday's Herald.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Green DeWitt, long since passed away, and who for many years were prominent residents of Wayne township, this county. John E. DeWitt, of this county, and Fleming DeWitt, of Springfield, are the only survivors of the children.

The deceased leaves a wife, five sons and one daughter to mourn his loss. Only one of this family is married.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER
AROUSES NEIGHBORHOOD

A colored man, described as small of stature and well dressed, has aroused the east Market street neighborhood by his suspicious actions.

It is said this man has been skulking about the barns and alleys of this part of the city, causing considerable alarm to the women and children. He has been loafing about the neighborhood for several days and has been observed to hide behind barns and fences when approached.

Nothing has been stolen from any of the premises on which he has been seen, indicating that the man is either deranged or has a more subtle purpose.

The police have been informed, and, it is said, know the man, and his arrest is expected shortly.

and women may be punished not only for what they have actually done in the past, but also for what may possibly result in the future from what they have done.

Suppose a man is spending week by week all that he earns. Then the local authorities, acting in conjunction with the local police, may send him to a penal workhouse on the pretext that his conduct is such that he may later become destitute, and therefore a burden on the community.

To be a burden on the community is a crime. The result is a woman who wishes to be rid of her husband for a year or two—or a man of his wife—who has only to persuade the local authorities that unless he is forced to change his ways he may perhaps some day become destitute.

A visitor once found in one penal workhouse a woman who was there for two years at the request of her husband.

Flag Day was observed by the Daughters of the American Revolution at an exceptionally beautiful party at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Warner Monday afternoon.

The handsome home, suggestive of the Colonial in its spaciousness, lent itself admirably to patriotic decorations and the folds of "Old Glory" waved over the entrance and greeted the guests as they approached.

The large sloping lawn was radiant with summer bloom and guests found much incentive to linger on the big veranda enjoying the out door beauty.

A charming little program was introduced with the singing of "America" in which the entire Chapter joined. Miss Stella West played a brilliant piano solo and Miss Ada Woodward sang a pretty ballad. Miss Dorothy Fullerton accompanist.

Miss Forest Allen, of Milledgeville, a reader who is always eagerly welcomed in Washington, delighted the Chapter with several readings; one to Mr. Hays Dill, on the evening of Thursday, the twenty-fourth of June, at half past seven o'clock, at their home on the Rock Bridge road.

The bridal party will include Miss Katharine Marks, as maid of honor, Miss Lois Bradford, of Barton, O., and Miss Jean Howat, maids; Mr. Bruce King, as best man.

A delicious summer collation was served, with the red, white and blue suggested in its color scheme.

Greenfield society has witnessed no lovelier wedding than that of Miss Clara Barr, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, and Mr. Kenneth Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kyle, formerly of this city, now of Lancaster, at the home of the bride, Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

The bride is a very attractive young girl who has had liberal advantages in education and supplemented them last year with a summer's travel in Europe. She is as quiet as a mouse.

The bridegroom retains a host of friends in this city, and was also a popular fellow at the O. W. U., where the young couple were first sweethearts.

The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Swinehart in a bower of pink roses in the living room, and pink roses draped windows, mantles and the wide stairway, and filled a basket, which surmounted the newel post. The adjoining parlor was redolent with orange blossoms. White linen covered the floors.

Price's orchestra played the wedded music and as the hour appointed approached Mrs. Ernest Barr and Miss Mary Bowman sang.

The bride was very sweet and girlish in her bridal gown of white Duchess satin, entraine, and long ropes of pearls falling each side over the bodice and down the skirt. Her veil, of Venetian lace, arranged cap effect, was fastened with orange blossoms and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride was attended by Miss Hilda Kyle, of Lancaster, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor and two maids, Miss Mary Dunton, of Findlay, room mate of the bride at the O. W. U., and Miss Thelma Buchanan, of Helena, Ark., her room mate at Ward-Belmont college.

The maid of honor wore a very elaborate gown of white silk, flowered with pink roses, and over-drapery of rose chiffon, and carried a lovely colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

Miss Dunton wore cream pussy willow taffeta, with ruffled skirt and bodice trimmed with pink rose buds, and carried a basket of roses.

SUNDAY SCHOOL COUNCIL CONSIDERS MISSIONS

MARY REESE FILES ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Almost half a hundred of the leaders in Presbyterian Sunday school work and members of the church session assembled in the church basement Monday evening for the regular monthly meeting of the Sunday School Council.

It was an occasion of unusual interest in having Rev. Robert E. Pugh, Supt. of Home Missionary work in Ohio, as the honor guest.

The committee of ladies for the month served an appetizing supper at six o'clock, and at the close of its enjoyable sociability, the practical part of the council's efforts was brought up for consideration.

The feature of the evening was the address by Rev. Pugh, who is most desirous to make a clear cut program for Home Mission work throughout the state of Ohio. The speaker presented the importance of mission work, which underlies the whole life of the church and is imperative to bring the gospel to many who do not know the Christ.

Right here in Ohio there are 5000 churches that need building up. It has been astounding to find in many Ohio localities positive and definite in their views of Atheism and cards parlors Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members requested to be present.

Rev. Pugh cited the public schools as strong allies in helping churches and gave personal experiences showing the fine opportunities schools furnish for work. Some 50,000 Italians returning from the United States have also done specific mission work in their home land.

Churches are being urged to come in full touch with the nine boards of the church and interest themselves in these big fields.

Rev. Pugh was most desirous of having a stereoptican and views which can be used in illustrating lectures to show the need of mission work in Ohio, and the Sunday school decided to give $100 to the Home Mission Board to provide this instrument and views.

How Letters Strike Our Eyes.

Roman letters of various sizes are commonly called into request by opticians in testing vision. Recent experiments show great differences in the ease with which the various letters are recognized by the same person. T is especially difficult of recognition and is apt to be mistaken for Y. By a similar optical illusion the angle of L is rounded off, making the letter resemble a reversed J. V is the easiest of all letters to recognize, and O presents little difficulty. K is more easily recognized than H, which resembles it closely, and both N and Z are easily recognized. A is easily guessed at from its general form, but is difficult of positive recognition, including distinct perception of the horizontal line. E and F are among the most difficult of all letters.

Equine Sagacity.

Here is a startling story of equine sagacity related by the London Tit-Bits. A horse was standing in the shafts of a carriage just outside a local theater. It had a weary look, as of one that desired repose.

Suddenly it brightened up, and before it could be stopped it made a dash for the box office.

The reasons for this unexpected behavior gave rise to much discussion till at last one of the crowd, more observant than the others, pointed out that the legend "To the stalls," was written in large letters over the box office window.

Law and Ordinance.

All "ordinances" are "laws," but all laws are not ordinances. Law is the wider term, applying to states, while ordinance has special reference to the municipality. Laws and ordinances are equally "rules of action" laid down by authority, but in the case of the ordinance the authority is of the minor sort—the city as opposed to the state.—New York American.

TO RAISE FUND OF $100,000

DELEGATES TO STATE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION WILL BE ASKED TO GET MONEY.

PLAN SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN

Money is desired for the purchase of Building for the State Association and as the nucleus of an endowment.

Delegates in attendance upon the State Sunday-school Convention, at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24, will be asked to authorize formally the raising of a fund of $100,000 by solicitation throughout the state. This money is desired for two purposes. The first is the purchase of a building, which shall be a permanent home for the State Sunday-school Association, and which will not only relieve that organization from the payment of rent, but will enable it to sub-let quarters, so there may be a revenue from this source. The remainder of the sum is expected to be the nucleus of an endowment.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, in outlining this purpose for the State Association, emphasized the fact that this money is not for the payment of a debt. Former State Secretary C. W. Shinn, in retiring, left the association out of debt for the first time in more than twenty years. His successor, Dr. J. D. Darling, has successfully continued the operation of the association along the same lines.

Leaders in the Sunday-school work, however, have many plans for extensions and additions to their activities which the present revenues are not adequate to cover. There is no intention of abandoning the present plan of financing current obligations. The revenues from the endowment fund, however, will be used for the introduction of new forms of enterprise which have not been possible heretofore.

A special committee, consisting of Dr. W. G. Clippinger, state president; W. A. Eudaly, Middletown; Dr. Herman Heston, Columbus; G. F. Bareis, Canal Winchester, and Dr. J. D. Darling, general secretary, have secured the services of Miss Anna B. Coushaine, of New York, who is known as the most successful campaign manager in this country. During the month of May and the first weeks of June, Miss Coushaine has been busy corresponding with the county secretaries throughout the state and speaking whenever an opportunity afforded. The details of her campaign will be explained at the State Convention.

The idea of a permanent home for the State Association, where committee meetings could be held, where a library could be established, and where a logical growth and expansion of the work could take place, has been a dream of many of the workers for a number of years. The responses received to date indicate that this dream is in a fair way of realization.

Miss Coushaine's plan is to perfect an organization in each one of the 68 counties, subdivide the work, ask for contributions in small sums and by the use of whirlwind methods finish the work in short order. It is believed that a couple of months in the summer will be all that will be required to raise the entire $100,000.

OHIO'S NEW SECRETARY

DR. J. D. DARLING,

Who is secretary of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, will not have completed his first year by the holding of the state convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24. He will not be a stranger to Ohio Sunday-school workers, however, as he has spent a majority of his time, since his election, in visiting through the state and attending county, district and city Sunday-school conventions.

SHE WILL RAISE FUNDS

MISS ANNA B. COUSHAINE,

Who has been selected by the Executive Committee of the Ohio Sunday-school Association as financial secretary, has been preparing for a campaign to raise $100,000 to buy the state association a home and to provide a nucleus of an endowment fund. Miss Coushaine will explain her plan before the State Sunday-school Convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, says of the coming convention to be held at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24: "I wish to emphasize for the coming convention the need of recognition of better educational ideas for the Sunday-school work. The training of both officers and teachers must be emphasized more and more. At the same time we want to inject into our work the finest kind of evangelistic spirit. This will include local evangelism and instruction and training in missions."

Bowser Knows Mankind

He Can Tell an Honest Man On Sight.

By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

In introducing Mr. Bowser to new readers he should be put in the right light at the very outset. He is simply an average husband, having and displaying no more pomposity, erudition and the desire to lay it all on his wife than forty-nine husbands out of every fifty. He finds fault, but that is to be expected of a husband. It's his privilege-assumed, not granted. He is selfish to an extent, but find a husband who isn't. If things go wrong he blames Mrs. Bowser. Why shouldn't he? Her pains and her aches are nothing. His are everything, and the household must "stand around" accordingly. Even know a husband who was different?

Mrs. Bowser has opinions, but they are of no weight compared with his.

Mrs. Bowser can make $2 buy as much as his $3, but he won't admit it. Mrs. Bowser has trouble with her cook, but he'd get along as slick as grease, of course. For three days he will wear an old shirt all torn up the back and say nothing about it. On the fourth day if he should happen to find one loose stitch somewhere he'd declare his was the worst run house in all Amer-

"Indeed! What you can or cannot be have is of very little importance to a nation of 90,000,000 people. Mrs. Bowser. I say she was unworthy, and that settles it. However, I do not blame you so very much as she probably told a very plausible story. But let this be the last time. I am just as charitable as the next man, and perhaps more so, but I want to know who I'm giving to."

"I can't help but believe she was just what she represented herself," protested Mrs. Bowser.

That matter was definitely settled, Mrs. Bowser—definitely settled, understand—when I declared her unworthy. I will some day give you instructions as to reading human nature, but until I do give to no more mendicants. You simply encourage fraud, vice, ignorance and crime. There is no telling but what your action in this case will land that woman behind prison bars to-morrow."

"I don't see how it could," she replied.

"Probably not. There's a great many things you haven't seen, can't see and never will see, Mrs. Bowser. When I am away give all such people the cold shoulder. When I am home refer them to me. In that way no mistakes can possibly arise."

About 8 o'clock that evening the gate bell rang, and pretty soon the cook came in and reported that there was a man outside who wanted money for a night's lodging.

"Ah! Got the house located down fine, haven't they?" sarcastically exclaimed Mr. Bowser, who was reading his newspaper.

"Tell him we have nothing to give."

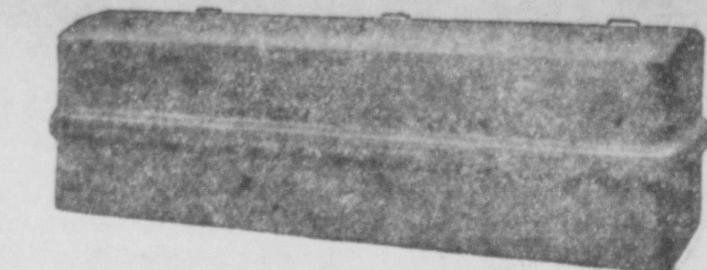

"You probably did," replied Mrs. Bowser. "She was a poor woman who had burned her hand and couldn't work with it, and I felt sorry for her."

"That's you—you to a dot! Never even saw her hand to know that her story was true."

"But I did. It was a very bad burn. And she gave you her street and

TWO TRAIN RIDERS ARE KILLED IN WRECK ON D. T. & I.

Two men from Jackson were killed and all traffic tied up for nine hours, Monday night, when eight freight cars and the caboose of north bound D. T. & I. train No. 54 left the rails at South Charleston about six o'clock. The wreck was caused by a broken journal on a car laden with coal.

The mishap occurred just north of the depot in South Charleston, and near the mill and while the train was running at a fair rate of speed. When the journal snapped it caused the trucks of the car to leave the rails instantly and a moment later the track was torn up, three cars were overturned and the other five cars and caboose were derailed but not seriously damaged.

The two men killed, both of whom are said to have resided in Jackson, were stealing a ride and were caught between the cars and crushed so that death was almost instantaneous. One report states that the men's names were Johnson and Bingham. They were poorly garbed and bore no marks of identification.

Soon after the wreck the section crew was on the scene and as soon as possible the wrecker was summoned but it was 3:30 Tuesday morning before the track was cleared and repairs made sufficient to allow traffic. The work of clearing up the wreck was made doubly difficult by one of the wrecked cars being loaded with pig iron.

The south bound passenger train, due here at seven o'clock p. m., was delayed on a siding near the scene of the wreck and did not reach this city until 4:00 a. m. Tuesday morning. The passengers naturally suffered considerable inconvenience.

Tuesday afternoon Undertaker Elmer Ridgeway, of Jackson, O., was in the city, on his way to South Charleston to take charge of the remains of the dead men, and stated that one was Howard Bingham and the other Walter F. Thompson, both of Jackson. Thompson comes from a good family in Jackson and both men were stealing a ride to Springfield.

The testimony offered consisted chiefly of evidence tending to prove that the County Board had no authority to make the change which caused the suit.

Considerable interest centers on the outcome of the suit, not only among boards of education but among all patrons of the rural schools.

DETAILS OF DEATH OF PAUL BLESSING;
WORDS OF PRAISE

The accompanying excerpt, giving particulars of the death of Mr. Paul Blessing, at Chillicothe, Mo., is from the Chillicothe Constitution. The excerpt follows:

"Paul B. Blessing, local manager of the branch factory of the M. B. Hamilton Glove Co., of Leavenworth, Kan., and one of Chillicothe's youngest and able business men, was found dead in his office in the factory building on South Elm street, Saturday morning, shortly after 11:00 o'clock. He was found by Ralph Hoyt, foreman of the manufacturing department. The phone in the office had been ringing insistently for some time and Mr. Hoyt, thinking that possibly Mr. Blessing had left the office, went down to answer it. It was then that he discovered the body. Believing that Paul had merely fainted, Mr. Hoyt, with the assistance of Howard Smith, another of the factory employees, carried him out into the air and summoned physicians. He was dead when they arrived."

"The loss of Paul Blessing saddens many hearts in Chillicothe. Honest, manly and sincere as he was with all whom he associated, he had won the esteem, yes the love, of practically all of his associates."

"Liberal in charity, honest in business, kindliness and sincerity to friends, Paul had become a confidential friend of all. In a happy home of just mother and son, the son has been taken away. A mother, who watched the rapid advancement of her youngest son in the business world, who has offered many little been engaged in the resetting of seen, indicating that the man is either deranged or has a more subtle purpose."

"On North street the workmen have of the premises on which he has been helpful suggestions and who had curb. It had been intended to start probably pictured mentally many the concrete bed laying Wednesday purpose."

SCHOOL CASE
NOW IN HANDS
OF THE COURT

Judge Clarence Curtain now has the school case (C. P. West et al. vs. the County Board of Education) under consideration and a decision is expected in the near future.

No sensational evidence was introduced by the witnesses called to the stand by the plaintiffs, and after the plaintiffs rested their case a motion was made by the defense asking that the case be dismissed on the grounds that the charges were not sustained by the evidence. This motion was overruled, and the case was argued by John Logan for the plaintiff and J. D. Post and C. A. Reid for the defense after which the Court took the case under consideration.

The testimony offered consisted chiefly of evidence tending to prove that the County Board had no authority to make the change which caused the suit.

Considerable interest centers on the outcome of the suit, not only among boards of education but among all patrons of the rural schools.

SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER
AROUSES NEIGHBORHOOD

A colored man, described as small of stature and well dressed, has aroused the east Market street neighborhood by his suspicious actions.

It is said this man has been skulking about the barns and alleys of this part of the city, causing considerable alarm to the women and children. He has been loafing about the neighborhood for several days and has been observed to hide behind barns and fences when approached.

Nothing has been stolen from any of the premises on which he has been seen, indicating that the man is either deranged or has a more subtle purpose.

ITALIANS MOVE ON TRIESTE

Rome, June 15.—The Italian army has captured Monfalcone is pressing forward toward Trieste and is meeting with success, according to official dispatches received here. The Austrian forces, which are offering increasingly stronger resistance, are preparing to make a stand, it is understood, at Nabresina, only nine miles from Trieste.

Meanwhile Italian armies are closing in on Gorizia from three sides and fighting with unexpected success, while elsewhere the struggle is going forward, according to the war office, without repulse and with continued vigor.

The occupation of Cortina, in the upper Cadore Alps, the war office says, has not only barred the way to hostile invasion (evidently expected from this quarter), but has opened the way to an important offensive, probably to be directed across the mountains to Bozen. Nothing is said respecting the proximity of Italian troops to Trent, but the feeling is growing that that position will shortly be under bombardment, if it is not already, and that its occupation will be only a matter of days.

Just at present, however, the greatest interest centers on the campaign in the east, where the Italian forces have crossed the Isonzo and are threatening Gorizia and Trieste. The fighting along this front is said to be of the severest character, especially at Gorizia, which is now practically isolated. The railways to this fortress, which have not been cut, are dominated by Italian artillery, placed on the surrounding heights, and are consequently of little if any use.

The war office took occasion, in spite of the recent encouraging news, to warn the people against too great optimism, explaining that the terrain is almost entirely mountainous and has been fortified by the Austrians beforehand.

General Cadorna reported the partial destruction of the Austrian fortress of Malborga, in the Carnic Alps. During a violent bombardment several shells dropped simultaneously in an ammunition magazine. The resultant explosion shook the mountain-side and the masonry was blown to bits.

GERMANS RENEW FIERCE ATTACKS

Paris, June 15.—Fighting of the most violent character continues without interruption in the district north of Arras. The French are determined to hold at any cost the ground captured around Souchez and north of the sugar refinery, which was taken after almost two weeks of continuous fighting. The Germans, on the other hand, are launching new attacks daily against the French lines, but every time is immediately repulsed. They succeeded Sunday in retaking some of the trenches lost on the previous day directly north of the sugar refinery, but were unable to follow up their gain, new attacks being promptly checked. A gain of 150 meters to the east of Lorette is recorded in the official communiqué. Progress was made in the region of the Que Jevieres farm and also in Lorrain, in the region of Embemont.

DECIDED SLUMP IN SALOON BUSINESS

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Only 527 applications for saloon licenses will be considered July 7, when the licenses for the ensuing six months are granted. The reason the term "only" is used is that last year at this time 616 applications were on file. Wilbur F. Hall, secretary of the police board, believes that the slump in the saloon business in Kansas City is due first to a growing prohibition sentiment and the ban put on the use of liquor by employers in all lines of business, and second, to stringent regulation.

CINCINNATI WOMAN ATTACKED IN FLAT

Cincinnati, June 15.—A mysterious assault that may result fatally to Mrs. Jennie Dryden, thirty-four, took place in the Dryden apartments. Mrs. Dryden was found in the hallway of her home in a semi-conscious condition and hurried to a hospital. There it was found that she had been assaulted with a blunt instrument, had sustained a fractured skull and possibly concussion of the brain. Her recovery is doubtful. She has four children.

UNCLE SAM IN CHARGE OF RIVER

Youngstown, O., June 15.—Mahoning county commissioners received word from Captain Harold C. Fliske of the United States engineering corps to the effect that the federal government has assumed control of the Mahoning river from Warren to its junction with the Beaver river in Pennsylvania. Plans for bridges, dikes, dams etc., must hereafter be submitted to the government for approval.

MORGAN TO AID BRITISH WOUNDED

London, June 15.—J. P. Morgan has offered Dover House to Queen Mary's convalescent auxiliary hospitals, an institution recently organized for sailors and soldiers who have lost their limbs. Dover House is to be used for convalescing officers. Rochampton House, which is near by, also has been acquired. The two places will accommodate about 300 patients.

Wild Cinnamon.

Although the cultivation of cinnamon on the plantations in French Indo-China is constantly increasing, most of the product is obtained from a wild shrub growing in the forest. When a native discovers a cinnamon tree he must make a declaration before the local administration, who cut down the tree and authenticate its product. The profits accruing to the discoverer of a single tree sometimes reach a large sum. The variety most prized is the wild royal cinnamon of Thanh-Hoa, which is thought by the Chinese to possess a high medicinal value.

Flag Day was observed by the Daughters of the American Revolution at an exceptionally beautiful party at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Harper Monday afternoon. The handsome home, suggestive of the Colonial in its spaciousness, lent itself admirably to patriotic decorations and the folds of "Old Glory" waved over the entrance and greeted the guests as they approached.

The large sloping lawn was radiant with summer bloom and guests found much incentive to linger on the big verandah enjoying the outdoor beauty.

A charming little program was introduced with the singing of "America" in which the entire Chapter joined. Miss Stella West played a brilliant piano solo and Miss Ada Woodward sang a pretty ballad. Miss Dorothy Fullerton accompanist.

Miss Forest Allen, of Milledgeville, reader who is always eagerly welcomed in Washington, delighted the Chapter with several readings; one especially imbued with the spirit of the day and one a musical reading, with piano accompaniment played by Miss Annette Stafford.

The Star Spangled Banner was sung with enthusiasm by the Chapter.

A delicious summer collation was served, with the red, white and blue suggested in its color scheme.

Greenfield society has witnessed no lovelier wedding than that of Miss Clara Barr, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, and Mr. Kenneth Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kyle, formerly of this city, now of Lancaster, at the home of the bride, Saturday evening at seven o'clock.

The bride is a very attractive young girl who has had liberal advantages in education and supplemented them last year with a summer's travel in Europe. She is as quiet.

The bride was attended by Miss Hilda Kyle, of Lancaster, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor and two maids, Miss Mary Dunton, of Findlay, room mate of the bride at the O. W. U., and Miss Thelma Buchanan, of Helena, Ark., her room mate at Ward-Belmont college.

The maid of honor wore a very elaborate gown of white silk, flowered with pink roses, and over-drapery of rose chiffon, and carried a lovely colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

Miss Dunton wore cream pussy willow taffeta, with ruffled skirt and bodice trimmed with pink rose buds, and carried a basket of roses.

Miss Buchanan's gown was of blue crepe de chine, with accordian plaited skirt and pink rose bud garniture on the bodice. She carried a business visitor here today.

SUNDAY SCHOOL COUNCIL
CONSIDERS MISSIONS

MARY REESE FILES
ACTION FOR DIVORCE

Almost half a hundred of the leaders in Presbyterian Sunday school work and members of the church session assembled in the church basement Monday evening for the regular monthly meeting of the Sunday School Council.

It was an occasion of unusual interest in having Rev. Robert E. Pugh, Supt. of Home Missionary work in Ohio, as the honor guest.

The committee of ladies for the month served an appetizing supper at six o'clock, and at the close of its enjoyable sociability, the practical part of the council's efforts was brought up for consideration.

The feature of the evening was the address by Rev. Pugh, who is most desirous to make a clear cut program for Home Mission work throughout the state of Ohio. The speaker presented the importance of mission work, which underlies the whole life of the church and is imperative to bring the gospel to many who do not know the Christ.

Right here in Ohio there are 5000 churches that need building up. It has been astounding to find in many Ohio localities positive and definite in their views of Atheism and cards given out by the thousands avowing "there is no God."

Rev. Pugh cited the public schools as strong allies in helping churches and gave personal experiences showing the fine opportunities schools furnish for work. Some 50,000 Italians returning from the United States have also done specific mission work in their home land.

Churches are being urged to come in full touch with the nine boards of the church and interest themselves in these big fields.

Rev. Pugh was most desirous of having a stereoptican and views which can be used in illustrating lectures to show the need of mission work in Ohio, and the Sunday school decided to give $100 to the Home Mission Board to provide this instrument and views.

How Letters Strike Our Eyes.

Roman letters of various sizes are commonly called into request by oculists in testing vision. Recent experiments show great differences in the ease with which the various letters are recognized by the same person. T is especially difficult of recognition and is apt to be mistaken for Y. By a similar optical illusion the angle of L is rounded off, making the letter resemble a reversed J. V is the easiest of all letters to recognize, and O presents little difficulty. K is more easily recognized than H, which resembles it closely, and both N and Z are easily recognized. A is easily guessed at from its general form, but is difficult of positive recognition, including distinct perception of the horizontal line. E and F are among the most difficult of all letters.

Equine Sagacity.

Here is a startling story of equine sagacity related by the London Tit-Bits. A horse was standing in the shafts of a carriage just outside a local theater. It had a weary look, as of one that desired repose.

Suddenly it brightened up, and before it could be stopped it made a dash for the box office.

The reasons for this unexpected behavior gave rise to much discussion till at last one of the crowd, more observant than the others, pointed out that the legend "To the stalls," was written in large letters over the box office window.

Law and Ordinance.

All "ordinances" are "laws," but all laws are not ordinances. Law is the wider term, applying to states, while ordinance has special reference to the municipality. Laws and ordinances are equally "rules of action" laid down by authority, but in the case of the ordinance the authority is of the minor sort—the city as opposed to the state.—New York American.

BASEBALL

Fans will greet with enthusiasm the announcement of the Athletic management that Billy Hedgecock, former Washington catcher now playing ball in Columbus, has been signed up to backstop for Washington in the game with Wilmington, Sunday. Gerlach, who was first announced for catcher, will be retained on the bench.

Another thing is the probability of getting Lewis, of Columbus, for third sack. The deal has not been closed but it is intimated that the effort being made to secure him is firmly expected to prove successful. It is probable that Manager Noon will go to Columbus Wednesday to make sure.

Lewis and his ability are not very well known to most of the local fans. He played here a year or two ago and those who remember his game at that time will recall that he was a player of exceptional speed.

Rhodes, of Columbus, who played short here last Sunday and who will be on the local lineup again in the Wilmington game, says Lewis is better than ever this season.

It looks like the Clintons are going to have a real ball game on their hands after all.

WEIR HAS WRITTEN THREE MORE PLAYS

Hugh C. Weir, local author and writer of scenarios now connected with the official writing staff of the Universal Film Corporation at Universal City, Cal., has written three plays since he left here to take up his residence and position in the west. The announcement is contained in leading picture play journals.

The first of Weir's plays was written on the train when the Universal artists and business directors were on their way to open the city, some weeks ago. It is entitled "The Opening of the Only Universal Moving Picture City in the World," in which Mr. Carl Laemmle, president of the company, is the leading character.

"The Circus Girl's Romance" is another Weir production which features Marie Walcamp, prominent photoplay star. This picture was taken with the assistance of the Sells Floto and Buffalo Bill Circus and was personally directed by Buffalo Bill himself.

King Bagget, famous movie star, is the leading man for another of Weir's plays, "The Adventure of the Yellow Curl Papers."

Mr. Weir was one of several artists producing "The Broken Coin," a new serial of the Universal Corporation featuring Francis Ford and Grace Cunard of "Lucile Love" fame.

VIOLENCE BEGINS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 15.—Three acts of violence, as a result of the street car strike, were reported today. A big plank was thrown at an elevated train from a fire escape and a brick was hurled at a window of another train. An acid bomb was also thrown at a train.

It is reported from Philadelphia that it is planned to get 1,500 men there for work on the street car lines in Chicago.

Chicago, June 15.—An army of Chicagoans went to their occupations today in automobiles, vans, delivery wagons and on foot and the seriousness of the strike of 14,000 street car employees began to be realized.

Not a wheel was to be turned on the surface lines, but it was planned to operate elevated trains throughout the daylight hours. All will be guarded by squads of detectives.

Peace proposals are being considered in many quarters today. At one station of a steam road maintaining suburban service a crowd, unable to obtain a foothold on earlier trains, broke through a barbed wire fence and swarmed on the train, with men riding on the cowcatcher, coal tender and running boards.

up at navy yards, where they rapidly deteriorate, like a vacant house. All small ships and all cruisers now laid up for lack of men are needed in Mexico and elsewhere, and should be ready for an emergency call to prevent the employment of battleships at gunboat duty. The complement of enlisted men at shore stations and training stations has been cut down, with a decided loss of efficiency; and greatly to the discontent and discomfort of the men.

"The investigation of our national defense and a comprehensive plan for the future should be an obligatory matter in our next Congress for the navy belongs to the people of the country, and they have a right to know its condition and how it is being managed. The mere appropriation of vastly increased sums would not be instrumental in bringing about the necessary reforms or military efficiency of the organization, that can only be accomplished by an investigation of actual conditions, and a demand for needed changes in the way of military reforms, which would be forced upon Congress by an enlightened public sentiment.

"This investigation and knowledge has been denied to the people by the leaders of the party in power. It is deplorable that there should be an influence to deceive the people in a matter of such vital importance. We have reached a period in the world's history when it must be recognized that if we are to maintain peace, and safeguard the interests of our people, we must be prepared to defend ourselves. Let us not forget—as the nation is, so also are its government, its public, its army and its navy."

COURT FAVORS JOHN BILLARD

By Associated Press.

New York, June 15.—The Federal District Court today granted immunity to John L. Billard, former director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, who was indicted with twenty other directors, present and past, for alleged criminal violation of the anti-trust law.

DISTANCE A GUN CAN SHOOT.

Main Factors Are Initial Velocity and Angle of Elevation.

The distance a shot can be thrown depends primarily on two things—the velocity with which it leaves the muzzle and the angle of elevation above the horizontal. Other things affect it also, but these are all important. Of course a light shell will lose its velocity quicker than a heavy one, for it has less stored up energy to overcome the friction of the air. Temperature and the humidity of the air both have their effect. But the two great factors are initial velocity and angle of elevation.

Any one who throws a ball knows that it is higher near the center of its flight than at either end. The farther it is thrown the higher it is at the center. It was long ago found that any projectile to reach a maximum range must be thrown at about forty-five degrees above the horizontal. This applies to a baseball as well as a 1,000 pound shell. If it is thrown higher it falls short in distance, for too much of our effort has been expended in giving it height. If thrown lower gravitation pulls it to the ground before it has covered its maximum distance.

Another thing—the ball or shell fails at a greater angle than that with which it started. If it is thrown at forty-five degrees elevation it will fall with nearly sixty degrees because of the retarding effect of the atmospheric friction. This friction is continually slowing up the projectile and eventually all but stops it. But meantime the action of gravitation is pulling it farther and farther downward from its initial path. The net result is to bring it to earth much sooner than if the second half of its flight were the counterpart reversed of the first half.—Sidney Graves Koon, M. E., in Leslie's.

Why Is It?

If a young woman is arrested for stealing a bottle of milk and later explains she did it to keep her baby from starving, no judge or jury will convict her and folks will flock to her side offering assistance. Why is it there isn't any way to know the circumstances until the poor girl is forced to steal the milk?—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

TO RAISE FUND OF $100,000

DELEGATES TO STATE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION WILL BE ASKED TO GET MONEY.

PLAN SYSTEMATIC CAMPAIGN

Money is desired for the purchase of Building for the State Association and as the Nucleus of an Endowment.

Delegates in attendance upon the State Sunday-school Convention, at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24, will be asked to authorize formally the raising of a fund of $100,000 by solicitation throughout the state. This money is desired for two purposes. The first is the purchase of a building, which shall be a permanent home for the State Sunday-school Association, and which will not only relieve that organization from the payment of rent, but will enable it to sub-let quarters, so there may be a revenue from this source. The remainder of the sum is expected to be the nucleus of an endowment.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, in outlining this purpose for the State Association, emphasized the fact that this money is not for the payment of a debt. Former State Secretary C. W. Shinn, in retiring, left the association out of debt for the first time in more than twenty years. His successor, Dr. J. D. Darling, has successfully continued the operation of the association along the same lines.

Leaders in the Sunday-school work, however, have many plans for extensions and additions to their activities which the present revenues are not adequate to cover. There is no intention of abandoning the present plan of financing current obligations. The revenues from the endowment fund, however, will be used for the introduction of new forms of enterprise which have not been possible heretofore.

A special committee, consisting of Dr. W. G. Clippinger, state president; W. A. Eudaly, Middletown; Dr. Herman Heston, Columbus; G. F. Bareis, Canal Winchester, and Dr. J. D. Darling, general secretary, have secured the services of Miss Anna B. Coushaine, of New York, who is known as the most successful campaign manager in this country. During the month of May and the first weeks of June, Miss Coushaine has been busy corresponding with the county secretaries throughout the state and speaking whenever an opportunity afforded. The details of her campaign will be explained at the State Convention.

The idea of a permanent home for the State Association, where committee meetings could be held, where a library could be established, and where a logical growth and expansion of the work could take place, has been a dream of many of the workers for a number of years. The responses received to date indicate that this dream is in a fair way of realization.

Miss Coushaine's plan is to perfect an organization in each one of the 68 counties, subdivide the work, ask for contributions in small sums and by the use of whirlwind methods finish the work in short order. It is believed that a couple of months in the summer will be all that will be required to raise the entire $100,000.

To the organizing and debating team composed of Hall and Summers, more than any one force, is attributed the fact that the State of Colorado joined the dry column. OHIO'S NEW SECRETARY

DR. J. D. DARLING.

Who is secretary of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, will not have completed his first year by the holding of the state convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24. He will not be a stranger to Ohio Sunday-school workers, however, as he has spent a majority of his time, since his election, in visiting through the state and attending county, district and city Sunday-school conventions.

SHE WILL RAISE FUNDS

MISS ANNA B. COUSHAINE.

Who has been selected by the Executive Committee of the Ohio Sunday-school Association as financial secretary, has been preparing for a campaign to raise $100,000 to buy the state association a home and to provide a nucleus of an endowment fund. Miss Coushaine will explain her plan before the State Sunday-school Convention at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24.

Dr. W. G. Clippinger, president of the Ohio Sunday-school Association, says of the coming convention to be held at Zanesville, June 22, 23 and 24: "I wish to emphasize for the coming convention the need of recognition of better educational ideas for the Sunday-school work. The training of both officers and teachers must be emphasized more and more. At the same time we want to inject into our work the finest kind of evangelistic spirit. This will include local evangelism and instruction and training in missions."

number?"

"Yes."

"And you went there to see if it was all right?"

"No. I took her word for it."

"Took her word! Well, you are a soft mash! I'll bet $100 to a cent that she was the biggest kind of a fraud. She probably is grinning now as she thinks how nicely she soft soaped you."

"I think she was deserving of what I did for her," quietly replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Oh, yes, of course. Mrs. Bowser, let me give you a little advice. You were born in the country, and—"

"Weren't you?"

"No, ma'am."

"Weren't you born exactly one mile east of Podunk?"

"No—that is to say, I was born there, but I was reared!"

"In Podunk itself, a hamlet of thirteen houses and a cedar mill!"

"Mrs. Bowser," he continued after a moment, crossing his hands under his coat tails and balancing himself heel and toe, "I want to define my position in this matter. You were born and brought up in the country. You have never had a chance to study human nature as I have. The average face is the index of the average mind, but you haven't learned to read facial expressions yet."

"Have you?" she asked as he halted for breath.

"Certainly! Indeed, it came natural to me. I can detect an unworthy person at a glance. I can almost tell what he is thinking about. From the mere glance I got at that woman's face I would wager my shoes against a toothpick that she is a chronic beggar and a wretched fraud."

"I can't believe it," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Indeed! What you can or cannot be here is of very little importance to a nation of 90,000,000 people, Mrs. Bowser. I say she was unworthy, and that settles it. However, I do not blame you so very much as she probably told a very plausible story. But let this be the last time. I am just as charitable as the next man, and perhaps more so, but I want to know who I'm giving to."

"I can't help but believe she was just what she represented herself," protested Mrs. Bowser.

That matter was definitely settled, Mrs. Bowser—definitely settled, understand—when I declared her unworthy. I will some day give you instructions as to reading human nature, but until I do give to no more mendicants. You simply encourage fraud, vice, ignorance and crime. There is no telling, but what your action in this case will land that woman behind prison bars tomorrow."

"I don't see how it could," she replied.

"Probably not. There's a great many things you haven't seen, can't see and never will see, Mrs. Bowser. When I am away give all such people the cold shoulder. When I am home refer them to me. In that way no mistakes can possibly arise."

About 8 o'clock that evening the gate bell rang, and pretty soon the cook came in and reported that there was a man outside who wanted money for a night's lodging.

"Ah! Got the house located down due, haven't they?" sarcastically exclaimed Mr. Bowser, who was reading his newspaper.

"Tell him we have nothing to give."

DECIDED SLUMP IN SALOON BUSINESS

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Only 527 applications for saloon licenses will be considered July 7, when the licenses for the ensuing six months are granted. The reason the term "only" is used is that last year at this time 616 applications were on file. Wilbur F. Hall, secretary of the police board, believes that the slump in the saloon business in Kansas City is due first to a growing prohibition sentiment and the ban put on the use of liquor by employers in all lines of business, and second, to stringent regulation.

Although the cultivation of cinnamon on the plantations in French Indo-China is constantly increasing, most of the product is obtained from a wild shrub growing in the forest. When a native discovers a cinnamon tree he must make a declaration before the local administration, who cut down the tree and authenticate its product. The profits accruing to the discoverer of a single tree sometimes reach a large sum. The variety most prized is the wild royal cinnamon of Thanh-Hoa, which is thought by the Chinese to possess a high medicinal value.

DALE

Rome, June 15.—The Italian army has captured Montalcino is pressing forward toward Trieste and is meeting with success, according to official dispatches received here. The Austrian forces, which are offering increasingly stronger resistance, are preparing to make a stand. It is understood, at Nabresina, only nine miles from Trieste.

Meanwhile, Italian armies are closing in on Gorizia from three sides and fighting with unexpected success, while elsewhere the struggle is going forward, according to the war office, without repulse and with continued vigor. The occupation of Cortina, in the upper Cadore Alps, the war office says, is not only barred the way to hostile invasion (evidently expected from this quarter), but has opened the way to an important offensive, probably to be directed across the mountains to Belluno. Nothing is said respecting the proximity of Italian troops to Trent, but the feeling is growing that that city will shortly be under bombardment, if it is not already, and that its capture will be only a matter of days.

Just at present, however, the greatest interest centers on the campaign in the east, where the Italian forces have crossed the Isonzo and are threatening Gorizia and Trieste. The fighting along this front is said to be of the severest character, especially at Gorizia, which is now practically isolated. The railways to this fortress, which have not been cut, are dominated by Italian artillery, placed on the surrounding heights, and are consequently of little if any use.

The war office took occasion, in spite of the recent encouraging news, to warn the people against too great optimism, explaining that the terrain is almost entirely mountainous and has been fortified by the Austrians beforehand.

Home Merchants have it, no doubt.

BASEBALL

Fans will greet with enthusiasm the announcement of the Athletic management that Billy Hedgecock, former Washington catcher now playing ball in Columbus, has been signed up to backstop for Washington in the game with Wilmington, Sunday. Gerlach, who was first announced for catcher, will be retained on the bench.

Another thing is the probability of getting Lewis, of Columbus, for third sack. The deal has not been closed but it is intimated that the effort being made to secure him is firmly expected to prove successful.

It is probable that Manager Noon will go to Columbus Wednesday to make sure.

Lewis and his ability are not very well known to most of the local fans. He played here a year or two ago and those who remember his game at that time will recall that he was a player of exceptional speed.

Rhodes, of Columbus, who played short here last Sunday and who will be on the local lineup again in the Wilmington game, says Lewis is better than ever this season.

It looks like the Clintons are going to have a real ball game on their hands after all.

WEIR HAS WRITTEN THREE MORE PLAYS

Hugh C. Weir, local author and writer of scenarios now connected with the official writing staff of the Universal Film Corporation at Universal City, Cal., has written three plays since he left here to take up his residence and position in the west. The announcement is contained in leading picture play journals.

The first of Weir's plays was written on the train when the Universal artists and business directors were on their way to open the city, some weeks ago. It is entitled "The Opening of the Only Universal Moving Picture City in the World," in which Mr. Carl Laemmle, president of the company, is the leading character.

"The Circus Girl's Romance" is another Weir production which features Marie Walcamp, prominent photoplay star. This picture was taken with the assistance of the Sells Floto and Buffalo Bill Circus and was personally directed by Buffalo Bill himself.

King Baggot, famous movie star, is the leading man for another of Weir's plays, "The Adventure of the Yellow Curl Papers."

Mr. Weir was one of several artists producing "The Broken Coin," a new serial of the Universal Corporation featuring Francis Ford and Grace Cunard of "Lucile Love" fame.

WATER THREATENED TO FLOOD HOMES

Sewers failing to work properly, one part of New Holland was flooded late Monday night, and a call was made to the local power company asking that the lights be kept burning. While the water reached almost to the first floors of a few residences, no damage resulted.

The call for light gave rise to a report that a fire was raging in New Holland.

VIOLENCE BEGINS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, June 15.—Three acts of violence, as a result of the street car strike, were reported today. A big plank was thrown at an elevated train from a fire escape and a brick was hurled at a window of another train. An acid bomb was also thrown at a train.

It is reported from Philadelphia that it is planned to get 1,500 men there for work on the street car lines in Chicago.

Chicago, June 15.—An army of Chicagoans went to their occupations today in automobiles, vans, delivery wagons and on foot and the seriousness of the strike of 14,000 street car employees began to be realized.

Not a wheel was to be turned on the surface lines, but it was planned to operate elevated trains throughout the daylight hours. All will be guarded by squads of detectives.

Peace proposals are being considered in many quarters today. At one station of a steam road maintaining suburban service a crowd, unable to obtain a foothold on earlier trains, broke through a barbed wire fence and swarmed on the train, with men riding on the cowcatcher, coal tender and running boards.

PEOPLE ARE DECEIVED ON NATIONAL DEFENSE

up at navy yards, where they rapidly deteriorate, like a vacant house. All small ships and all cruisers now laid up for lack of men are needed in Mexico and elsewhere, and should be ready for an emergency call to prevent the employment of battleships at gunboat duty. The complement of enlisted men at shore stations and training stations has been cut down, with a decided loss of efficiency; and greatly to the discontent and discomfort of the men.

"The investigation of our national defense and a comprehensive plan for the future should be an obligatory matter in our next Congress for the navy belongs to the people of the country, and they have a right to know its condition and how it is being managed. The mere appropriation of vastly increased sums would not be instrumental in bringing about the necessary reforms or military efficiency of the organization, that can only be accomplished by an investigation of actual conditions, and a demand for needed changes in the way of military reforms, which would be forced upon Congress by an enlightened public sentiment.

"This investigation and knowledge has been denied to the people by the leaders of the party in power. It is deplorable that there should be an influence to deceive the people in a matter of such vital importance. We have reached a period in the world's history when it must be recognized that if we are to maintain peace, and safeguard the interests of our people, we must be prepared to defend ourselves. Let us not forget—as the nation is, so also are its government, its public, its army and its navy."
